Nixon Pushes Tax Sharing

Meets Newsmen In Kansas City

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the ring on the congressional register holding at "no sale," President Nixon is off to Missouri today to make another regional pitch for his top domestic proposals.

The President and Mrs. Nixon were to depart the White House about noon for a 4 p.m. EDT meeting in Kansas City with news executives from 13 states.

The hour-long conclave, as have such meetings elsewhere, was expected to focus on the administration's schemes revenue sharing, welfare reform and government reorganization.

Although Nixon recently told a similar group of media officials in Rochester, N.Y., that Congress is going to pass each of those proposals because of the pressure of a "taxpayer revolt," prospects remain dim.

A White House advance man said the President also would discuss family health problems, growing drug addiction, and pollution.

The Nixons were to fly on to San Clemente, Calif., later in the day for a two-week stay at the Western White House.

Several administration officials preceded the chief executive into Kansas City for advance briefings, including: Herbert Klein, director of communications; Donald Rumsfeld, assistant for domestic programs; Clark MacGregor, congressional liaison chief, and William Ruckelshaus, head of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Invitations were extended to editors and other communications leaders from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Keep Cool Trial Judges Are Told

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's trial judges were advised today to keep cool and reasonable while dealing with unruly defendants and lawyers.

If a lawyer misbehaves, censure him; if a defendant carries on, order him out of the courtroom.

But even when the disruptive tactics are deliberate, keep cool.

This is the nub of proposed guidelines for judges put before the American Bar Association's House of Delegates. They are part of an overhaul of courtroom standards.

"The trial judge should be the exemplar of dignity and impartiality," the 297 delegates attending the ABA's 94th annual meeting here were told.

"He should exercise restraint over his conduct and utterances. He should suppress his personal predilections, and control his temper and emotions."

The guidelines were produced by a committee headed by U.S. Dist. Judge Frank J. Murray of Boston. Part of a larger study still under way, they were pushed ahead for adoption by the policy-making House "because of their priority nature."

The judge's power to keep order is recognized. In fact, he is encouraged to use it, beginning with "a gentle correction" to barraging errant lawyers from the courtroom for six months and tossing out defendants, spectators and newsmen who won't keep quiet.

"The right to a public trial is no way infringed by excluding unruly persons, whoever they may be, and those whose conduct tends to menace the participants," the committee said.

Firm Helps Employees Buy Bikes

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — A Santa Cruz tannery boss is helping to put his workers on snappy 10-speed bicycles to save them money and improve plant morale.

"It's turned into a wild, hilarious thing," says Norman Lezin, president of the A.K. Salz Tannery here. "When the whistle blows, it looks like the Tour de France."

Lezin, a cycling enthusiast himself, says he got the idea a month ago as he surveyed the scores of cars in the company parking lot driven to work by the 230 employees.

"I got to thinking about how much dough all these employees were paying for the privilege of having those cars just sit there," he says.

Lezin worked out a plan in which the company makes a small contribution towards the purchase of a 10-speed bike, considered preferable here because of hills. At the same time he arranged with a bike shop to give Salz employees a favorable price, with provision for installment purchase if desired.

He lays down one condition. "The employee has to agree that he will ride the bike to work for a month," he says.

Lezin says he thought perhaps 15 or 20 might go for the plan. But some 75 employees have turned to pedaling to and from their job, and the wives of 25 have also availed themselves of the company offer.

"The parking lot," says a beaming Lezin, "looks like a deserted battlefield."

He says he put up bike racks, but no one uses them.

"They don't want to let the bikes out of their sight," he says. "All through the tannery, I keep finding bikes chained to the machinery."

Pair Nabbed For Theft

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two men were wounded and captured early today, police reported, after they broke a window in a downtown jewelry store in view of passersby and made off with several watches.

Some of the witnesses gave chase and were joined by police who rushed to the burglar alarm report. The men were pursued through alleys and streets and police said they finally were shot and captured in a parking garage a block from the jewelry store.

One of the men was reported in serious condition and the other fair.

Police did not disclose their names, saying they believed the names they gave them were false.

The store was Dodd's jewelry store at Sixth and Vine streets in the heart of the downtown district.

B52s Brave Typhoon; Hit Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Typhoon Harriet curtailed some U.S. bombing strikes in Indochina today, but America's high-flying B52s blasted suspected North Vietnamese positions in the northern quarter of South Vietnam for the seventh consecutive day.

Unaffected by the weather because they fly as high as 30,000 feet, the eight-jet B52s dropped 270 tons of bombs on suspected enemy supply depots, bunker complexes and rocket launching sites.

Six of the giant Stratofortresses bombed on the western side of the A Shau valley, while three more dropped their bombs along the demilitarized zone north of Fire Base Fuller.

The Vietnam war slipped into another lull as the typhoon moved in from the South China Sea. The storm passed the demilitarized zone about noon and was expected to move inland Wednesday morning in the vicinity of Vinh, in North Vietnam 145 miles north of the DMZ.

Harriet's winds of more than 100 miles an hour curtailed bombing strikes against the Ho Chi Minh trail by fighter-bombers from the carriers Midway and Oriskany in the Tonkin gulf. At Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city 100 miles southeast of the DMZ, all passenger flights were cancelled, there were 8 to 10 inches of rain, and the strong winds knocked down power lines, disrupting electric service.

Associated Press photographer Neal Ulveich, traveling from Quang Tri south to Da Nang, said there was considerable flooding in the coastal region and the roofs of houses were blown off.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported only three scattered clashes in which government forces killed 39 enemy soldiers without suffering any casualties of their own.

Although the lull comes in the wake of the new Viet Cong peace proposal made at the Paris talks last Thursday, sources said it was too soon to tell whether the decline in enemy attacks is a signal from Hanoi that it is ready to negotiate in earnest.

Even before the Viet Cong's peace proposal last Thursday, U.S. intelligence officers predicted that North Vietnamese attacks along the DMZ would drop off. They said the enemy would pull back to regroup and receive supplies, then strike again later in the summer.

The pattern has been for the Communist forces to strike hard in a particular region for several days or weeks, then pull out. Their ability to keep up sustained attacks is limited because their supply lines are extended.

In Phnom Penh, Cambodia's National Assembly adopted a $340 million budget for 1971 with 59 per cent earmarked for the war against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. The total expenditure is $89.1 million more than last year's.

14 Ohioans Are Murdered Over Long Holiday Period

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fourteen Ohioans were murdered over the Fourth of July holiday weekend, several of them in family quarrels.

Simon Dinitz, a sociology professor at Ohio State University, says the holiday violence is not surprising, and notes that "half of all major violence takes place on weekends" the time people are supposed to be enjoying themselves.

Dinitz notes that pent up frustrations from work often come out on weekends and that people are thrown together without their usual activities.

The dead:

FRIDAY
CINCINNATI — Norman Moody, 19, of Cincinnati, shot in an argument, police say, over a repair bill. Norman Gregory, a towing company employee, has been charged with first-degree manslaughter.

YOUNGSTOWN — Frank Listorti, 51, and Bobby Kramer, 11, in a shooting spree in Listorti's barber shop in nearby Poland. Robert Williams, 21, has been charged with murder.

SATURDAY
COLUMBUS — Willis Spence, 39, when he was kicked in the head in a bar. Jody McCoy, 25, is charged with first-degree manslaughter.

ALLIANCE — Thomas Yates, 21, shot in an argument at a dance early Saturday morning. Thomas Hayes, 19, is charged with first-degree murder.

CLEVELAND — Lawrence Claggett, 23, of Cleveland, after an argument with a 15-year-old girl and her father. The father, Allen Grose, was being questioned.

SUNDAY
CLEVELAND — Charlie Mahone, 39, of Cleveland, shot in a bar owned by his brother, Robert, 44, who was being held for questioning.

AKRON — John Lee Harris, 45, shot in an argument at his home. His wife, Delores, is charged with first-degree manslaughter.

AKRON — Nathaniel Jones, 33, of Akron, shot in his apartment. A suspect was being questioned.

AKRON — Harold Palmer, 29, of Barberton, shot at his home. Police say he was shot several times by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Winston, 64.

CHILLICOTHE — Roger L. Roberts, 79, of Waverly, shot four times outside a bar two miles south of Chillicothe. Police were holding a 38-year-old Chillicothe man as a suspect.

CLEVELAND — William Hanley, 24, of Cleveland, killed by a shotgun blast as he stood in the window of his kitchen on the city's East Side. Hanley told police before he died he knew his assailant, but refused to identify him.

CLEVELAND — Robert Jackson, 37, shot and killed in the city during an argument with his wife. Police are holding her for questioning.

MONDAY
CINCINNATI — Calvin Hall, 28, found shot to death during the early morning hours in the Mount Auburn suburb of the city. Police say the death was the result of a family argument.

39 Recruits Hospitalized; Probe Starts

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Thirty-nine Marine recruits hospitalized with kidney problems after long exercise periods are back on their feet, but military spokesmen say the new Leathernecks will remain hospitalized the rest of the week.

Meanwhile, three drill instructors said to have led the exercises were on other duties and Marine authorities continued an investigation.

Capt. M. R. Arnold, public affairs officer, said Monday push-ups were included in exercise periods for the recruits, who were in their first week of boot camp.

Such exercise periods are limited by regulation to five minutes, with 30-second rests.

"Some recruits say the exercise periods were 15 minutes while other estimates go higher," Arnold reported of the five or six such periods ordered during a 26-hour period last Thursday and Friday.

The situation surfaced Saturday when six recruits reported to the depot dispensary complaining they were passing dark urine.

"Doctors said it was unusual for six men from one platoon to be troubled by this renal track illness," Arnold said, so all 80 members of the platoon were examined. Thirty-three more were ordered hospitalized for observation.

A hospital spokesman said the illness can be brought on "by unaccustomed exercises of the upper body muscles, such as the arms, shoulders and chest," occurring during push-ups.

Doctors said there is no danger of permanent damage to the kidneys or the renal track.

Louis Armstrong King Of Trumpets, Succumbs At 71

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis Armstrong, the satchelmouthed, eye-rolling one-time waif who learned to love the trumpet in a Louisiana school and blew and sang his way into the hearts of millions the world over, died today. He was 71 Sunday.

Armstrong spent 10 weeks in Beth Israel Hospital after winding up a two-week engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in late February.

That was a long way from the waif's home in New Orleans where a 13-year-old boy got his first cornet. He was sent to the home for shooting off a revolver on New Year's Eve.

Along the way, "Satchmo" went from one-night stands in little towns all across the country to jazz concerts in most of the world's capitals. He made countless recordings, appeared in many movies and lately, had been a favorite guest on television specials and talk shows.

Armstrong won acclaim all his life, from kings and savages, from intellectual jazz buffs and kids on the street. He moped his sweaty brow, rolled his eyes, sang in that growling voice and—most of all—played his horn.

On his 70th birthday in 1970, Armstrong played a recording of one of his early trumpet solos and had this to say: "Ain't nobody played nothing like it since, and can't nobody play nothing like it now."

That could be his epitaph, and as long as those old records are around to be played, nobody is going to argue with him.

Daniel Louis Armstrong was born on the fourth of July, 1900, and by the time he was 5 his parents had separated and Louis was roaming the New Orleans streets. After an ill-fated New Year celebration—sometimes he claimed the gun was only loaded with blanks—he was sent to the New Orleans Waifs Home.

Louis had already been taught to blow on a cornet a little by the great Bunk Johnson, and in the school's brass band.

After he left the home, Louis kept on playing the cornet—in New Orleans' famed houses of ill repute that gave jazz its

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Indictments were dismissed today against two more national banks in Ohio which had been charged with making illegal political loans.

U.S. District Court Judge Joseph P. Kinneary ruled last week that the portion of the so-called "corrupt practices act" under which indictments were brought was unconstitutional.

Kinneary today dismissed the one-count indictment against the Ohio National Bank of Columbus and the four-count indictment against the Bellefontaine National Bank. Last week he dismissed a four-count indictment against the First National Bank of Cincinnati and the First Knox National Bank of Mount Vernon.

American Legion Baseball Pitcher Dies

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Jim Waugh of Ashley had just finished pitching five innings in an American Legion baseball game Sunday when he collapsed and died.

Doctors still did not know Monday evening what caused his death. He was taken to University Hospital in Columbus for an autopsy.

Waugh would have begun his senior year at Buckeye Valley High School this fall.

Breakthrough Is Hoped For This Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rested after the long holiday weekend, members of the Ohio House of Representatives return to the capitol today to resume their ten-week-old tax debate.

At issue—still—is whether the state adopts a graduated statewide tax or a flat-rate county tax program to pay its bills during the current biennium.

The question of new taxes was decided late in May when the House passed a $7.8 billion general appropriations bill for 1971-73. About $850 million in additional revenue is needed to make ends meet.

The old budget of $6.2 billion expired last Wednesday at midnight. Since then, the state has been operating under a 31-day, $297 million interim appropriation.

House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg, has called a GOP caucus for today to see if a weekend of soul-searching and prodding from concerned constituents has made accommodation any easier.

And, talks between Kurfess and House Minority Leader A. G. Lancione, D-30 Bellaire, are expected to continue in an effort to turn up a compromise package acceptable to enough people for passage.

Fifty votes are needed to get a bill through the House. Republicans hold a 54-45 voting margin there, but are divided.

Still, Kurfess said at week's end that he hopes for a breakthrough this week.

Both the Senate, where the budget is now under consideration, and the administration of Gov. John Gilligan have expressed deep dissatisfaction with the delay.

Democrat Gilligan has urged the House to admit defeat and pass the task of drafting a tax plan to the Senate. The upper chamber is increasingly willing to take on the job.

Budgetary problems are, however, not peculiar to the Buckeye State this year.

California Saturday ended three days of insolvency with adoption of a one-year budget of nearly $7 billion.

It was the third consecutive time the nation's largest state had begun a fiscal year without a budget.

Michigan, too, is without a budget for 1971-72.

At Lansing, Republican Gov. William Milliken and the Democrat legislature are at odds over a proposed 38 per cent increase in the state income tax.

Roundtown

SAFETY was the name of the game on Pickaway County highways over the Fourth of July weekend as accidents were held to a minimum. . . . Two minor injury mishaps were reported by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and a few fender benders by the Circleville Police and Highway Patrol during the period from 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

Maybe people have decided it's a lot nicer to spend the holiday wrapped up in fun and relaxation rather than bandages and splints.

4 Persons Injured In Fireworks Mishap

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Four persons were burned Sunday night when a Fourth of July rocket landed in the back of their pickup truck and went off.

The four were sitting with several other people in the back of the truck during the fireworks display at Tapp City in southern Miami County when the incident occurred.

They were treated for burns at a Troy hospital and released.

Penn Central Concentrates Cash On Rail Line

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Trustees of the financially-ailing Penn Central say they may sell everything unrelated to rail transportation it will help get the company back on the profit side of the tracks by 1976.

"We ought to concentrate all of our resources in running the railroad and performing public service," said Jervis Langdon Jr., the only full-time trustee among the four men named by a federal judge last August to reorganize the $6.5 billion firm and salvage one of the biggest business failures in U.S. history.

Formed in 1968, after 10 years of planning, by the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, the Penn Central went into federal bankruptcy court 13 months ago to reorganize while reeling under a mountain of debts.

The 1970 loss was $431 million and this year Langdon estimates it will be close to $250 million but optimistically, he still thinks the railroad "has a good chance of becoming solvent."

"It will take another nine months or a year to get to a point where there is a positive cash flow on a bankruptcy basis," the 65-year-old Langdon said in an interview.

"Then, in addition to that, it will take another two, three, five years at the outside to produce a reorganized company. It's hard to say exactly because so much depends on the economy and also the extent of the inflation to be encountered in the years ahead."

Because it needs fresh cash desperately to lease or buy new equipment, Penn Central recently decided to sell land and buildings in midtown Manhattan in New York City, worth around $1 billion.

The trustees also are conducting a mammoth study to determine what nonrailroad facilities should be kept and what should be disposed of.

"I have in mind coal lands, land held for industrial development, a leasing company, the stock that we have in the Madison Square Garden—a whole list of assets that are unrelated, or at least not directly connected with the operation of the railroad," Langdon said.

Langdon, former chairman of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, is on the job every day. The other trustees spend only a day or two here every week thrashing out ways and means to end the flow of red ink.

The major task, he acknowledged, is reducing the number of employees from the present 92,000 to around 75,000, with the bulk of the labor cuts coming through operating diesel-electric locomotives with 3-man crews. Each employee dropped represents an annual saving of about $15,000.

Penn Central obtained a government-guaranteed $100 million loan early in 1971 and will have spent most of it by the end of the year.

"There is coming up a period

In addition to trophies and ribbons, the winners received U. S. Savings Bonds of $100, $25, and $15, respectively.

Karlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin, 513 Garden Parkway, is not new to the winners circle of beauties. In May, she was named second attendant to Miss South Central Ohio in the Chillicothe Jaycee-sponsored pageant, a preliminary to the Miss America Pageant.

As the reigning Ashville queen, Karlene will be a contender for the Miss Ohio Festivals crown at the Nelsonville Parade of Hills Festival in August.

voice and—most of all—played his horn.

On his 70th birthday in 1970, Armstrong played a recording of one of his early trumpet solos and had this to say:

"Ain't nobody played nothing like it since, and can't nobody play nothing like it now."

That could be his epitaph, and as long as those old records are around to be played, nobody is going to argue with him.

Daniel Louis Armstrong was born on the fourth of July, 1900, and by the time he was 5 his parents had separated and Louis was roaming the New Orleans streets. After an ill-fated New Year celebration—sometimes he claimed the gun was only loaded with blanks—he was sent to the New Orleans Waifs Home.

Louis had already been taught to blow on a cornet a little by the great Bunk Johnson, and in the school's brass band.

After he left the home, Louis kept on playing the cornet—in New Orleans' famed houses of ill repute that gave jazz its

Breakthrough Is Hoped For This Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rested after the long holiday weekend, members of the Ohio House of Representatives return to the capitol today to resume their ten-week-old tax debate.

At issue—still—is whether the state adopts a graduated statewide tax or a flat-rate county tax program to pay its bills during the current biennium.

The question of new taxes was decided late in May when the House passed a $7.8 billion general appropriations bill for 1971-73. About $850 million in additional revenue is needed to make ends meet.

The old budget of $6.2 billion expired last Wednesday at midnight. Since then, the state has been operating under a 31-day, $297 million interim appropriation.

House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perry'sburg, has called a GOP caucus for today to see if a weekend of soul-searching and prodding from concerned constituents has made accommodation any easier.

And, talks between Kurfess and House Minority Leader A. G. Lancione, D-30 Bellaire, are expected to continue in an effort to turn up a compromise package acceptable to enough people for passage.

Fifty votes are needed to get a bill through the House.

Republicans hold a 54-45 voting margin there, but are divided.

Still, Kurfess said at week's end that he hopes for a breakthrough this week.

Both the Senate, where the budget is now under consideration, and the administration of Gov. John Gilligan have expressed deep dissatisfaction with the delay.

Democrat Gilligan has urged the House to admit defeat and pass the task of drafting a tax plan to the Senate. The upper chamber is increasingly willing to take on the job.

Budgetary problems are, however, not peculiar to the Buckeye State this year.

California Saturday ended three days of insolvency with adoption of a one-year budget of nearly $7 billion.

It was the third consecutive time the nation's largest state had begun a fiscal year without a budget.

Michigan, too, is without a budget for 1971-72.

At Lansing, Republican Gov. William Milliken and the Democrat legislature are at odds over a proposed 38 per cent increase in the state income tax.

Roundtown

SAFETY was the name of the game on Pickaway County highways over the Fourth of July weekend as accidents were held to a minimum. Two minor injury mishaps were reported by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and a few fender benders by the Circleville Police and Highway Patrol during the period from 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

Maybe people have decided it's a lot nicer to spend the holiday wrapped up in fun and relaxation rather than band-aids and splints.

DON Poling's driver education class was in traffic court today. As spectators, not defendants.

4 Persons Injured In Fireworks Mishap

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Four persons were burned Sunday night when a Fourth of July rocket landed in the back of their pickup truck and went off.

The four were sitting with several other people in the back of the truck during the fireworks display at Tipp City in southern Miami County when the incident occurred.

They were treated for burns at a Troy hospital and released.

Penn Central Concentrates Cash On Rail Line

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Trustees of the financially-ailing Penn Central say they may sell everything unrelated to rail transportation it will help get the company back on the profit side of the tracks by 1976.

"We ought to concentrate all of our resources in running the railroad and performing public service," said Jervis Langdon Jr., the only full-time trustee among the four men named by a federal judge last August to reorganize the $6.5 billion firm and salvage one of the biggest business failures in U.S. history.

Formed in 1968, after 10 years of planning, by the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads, the Penn Central went into federal bankruptcy court 13 months ago to reorganize while reeling under a mountain of debts.

The 1970 loss was $431 million and this year Langdon estimates it will be close to $250 million but optimistically, he still thinks the railroad "has a good chance of becoming solvent."

"It will take another nine months or a year to get to a point where there is a positive cash flow on a bankruptcy basis," the 65-year-old Langdon said in an interview.

"Then, in addition to that, it will take another two, three, five years at the outside to produce a reorganized company. It's hard to say exactly because so much depends on the economy and also the extent of the inflation to be encountered in the years ahead."

Because it needs fresh cash desperately to lease or buy new equipment, Penn Central recently decided to sell land and buildings in midtown Manhattan in New York City, worth around $1 billion.

The trustees also are conducting a mammoth study to determine what nonrailroad facilities should be kept and what should be disposed of.

"I have in mind coal lands, land held for industrial development, a leasing company, the stock that we have in the Madison Square Garden—a whole list of assets that are unrelated, or at least not directly connected with the operation of the railroad," Langdon said.

Langdon, former chairman of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, is on the job every day. The other trustees spend only a day or two here every week thrashing out ways and means to end the flow of red ink.

The major task, he acknowledged, is reducing the number of employees from the present 92,000 to around 75,000, with the bulk of the labor cuts coming through operating diesel-electric locomotives with 3-man crews. Each employee dropped represents an annual saving of about $15,000.

Penn Central obtained a government-guaranteed $100 million loan early in 1971 and will have spent most of it by the end of the year.

"There is coming up a peri-

Ashville Citizens, Parade Entries Are Given Honor

OUTSTANDING CITIZENS — Mrs. Helen E. Hedges (right) was presented with roses and the honor of being named the Ashville Civic Club's selection for "Woman of the Year" during Friday's ceremonies at the 4th of July celebration. Making the presentation is 1971 Civic Club president, Mrs. William Trego. Ashville Community Club announced its selections Saturday of three Ashville area residents who received the Senior Citizens Awards this year. The honors were presented to Frank G. Hudson, Edwin Irwin and Earl Essick.

Floats of all shapes and sizes, decorated bikes and automobiles and assorted pets highlighted the big parade Monday morning on the final day of Ashville's holiday festival.

Other special events of the four-day ceremonies were the announcement of outstanding citizens from the community and dedication of Kraft Drive in honor of the late Claude Kraft.

Ashville Civic Club's "Woman of the Year" is Mrs. Helen Hedges, owner and operator of Hedges Hybrids business near Ashville. Three men were nominated for notice as Outstanding Senior Citizens by the Community Club. These awards went to Frank G. Hudson, Edwin Irwin and Earl Essick. Hudson is employed as adult probation officer for Pickaway County, Irwin manages an insurance agency in Ashville and Essick is a retired employee of Buckeye Steel Casting.

Kraft Drive is an extension of East Street in the village providing access to a new housing development being set out. The street was dedicated during the July 4th activities in memory of the late Claude Kraft, who was a well-known figure in Ashville and former president of the Ashville Bank.

MONDAY'S parade winners were judged in the various categories, with entries made

Ashville Citizens, Parade Entries Are Given Honor

OUTSTANDING CITIZENS — Mrs. Helen E. Hedges (right) was presented with roses and the honor of being named the Ashville Civic Club's selection for "Woman of the Year" during Friday's ceremonies at the 4th of July celebration. Making the presentation is 1971 Civic Club president, Mrs. William Trego. Ashville Community Club announced its selections Saturday of three Ashville area residents who received the Senior Citizens Awards this year. The honors were presented to Frank G. Hudson, Edwin Irwin and Earl Essick.

Floats of all shapes and sizes, decorated bikes and automobiles and assorted prizes highlighted the big parade Monday morning on the final day of Ashville's holiday festival.

Other special events of the four-day ceremonies were the announcement of outstanding citizens from the community and dedication of Kraft Drive in honor of the late Claude Kraft.

Ashville Civic Club's "Woman of the Year" is Mrs. Helen Hedges, owner and operator of Hedges Hybrids business near Ashville. Three men were nominated for notice as Outstanding Senior Citizens by the Community Club. These awards went to Frank G. Hudson, Edwin Irwin and Earl Essick. Hudson is employed as adult probation officer for Pickaway County, Irwin manages an insurance agency in Ashville and Essick is a retired employee of Buckeye Steel Casting.

Kraft Drive is an extension of East Street in the village providing access to a new housing development being set out. The street was dedicated during the July 4th activities in memory of the late Claude Kraft, who was a well-known figure in Ashville and former president of the Ashville Bank.

MONDAY'S parade winners were judged in the various categories, with entries made by youngsters, businesses and clubs.

Float awards went to the Ashville Bank, a first place in Commercial - Industrial for their entry utilizing the Liberty Bell as its theme. Second and third place in this category was presented to Ashville Pharmacy and Featheringham Furniture and Auction Service, respectively.

Organizational entries, senior division, were judged and the Women's Civic Club float took top honors. Second prize went to the Ashville Kiwanis and third to the Zion United Methodist Church.

Winning the junior division in Organizational Floats was Kookie Kitchen Kut-Ups 4-H Club. Runners-up were Alice's Angels 4-H Club, second and "Y" Indian Guides, third.

Glenn Hinkle submitted a miniature float that won the honors in its division. A second prize was given to Teays Valley Reserve Cheerleaders.

Decorated bicycles showed the ingenuity of area youths. Madolyn Roberts took first place in the girl's division, followed by Carolyn Lutz and Suzanne Sherman. For the boys, Robbie Caplinger won first, Mark Hoover took second and Jeff Marion accepted third place honors.

MARY'S Beauty Salon won the Decorated Auto prize. In second place were the Teays Valley Varsity Cheerleaders and third, E-Z Car Wash.

Entries of notice for their unusual theme or design were judged for their originality. Earning highest honors in this classification were Brad Six, proud display of a decorated wagon carrying his beagle and her six puppies. Bruce Nichol's go-cart, painted red, white and blue, took second place and the Dainty Decorettes 4-H Club were awarded third place for a marching unit, spelling out the name of their organization.

Animal appeal determined honors in the pet division. Winners were submitted by Toby Harkleroad, Mary Spradlin and Beth Turner.

In the Horse and Rider division, Gerald Burgoon won first, Nancy Guildersleeve took second and W. A. Adkinson accepted third place. Pony riders Mindy Bandy, Donald Burgoon and Jeannie Guildersleeve copped the three awards given in that division.

Ed Starkey drove the winning pony and cart entry, with Slim Gillon entering second place and Emerson Brown taking third.

City Officials Are Convicted Of Extortion

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Jersey City Mayor Thomas J. Whelan says he will be back at his City Hall desk Thursday, although a federal jury convicted him and seven others of extorting kickbacks from contractors.

Whelan was smiling and relaxed Monday after a federal court jury of nine women and three men found him guilty of all 29 counts of extortion and conspiracy to extort. The jury deliberated for four hours in an extraordinary holiday weekend session.

The original indictment last November charged each defendant with two counts of conspiracy to extort and 32 counts of extorting $182,000 from contractors, engineers and suppliers doing business with Jersey City and Hudson County.

Five counts were dismissed by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Robert Shaw, dropping the sum of the extortion to $165,000.

Only with Jersey City Business Administrator Phillip Kunz was the repetition of "guilty" findings by the jury broken. Kunz was convicted on 17 counts and acquitted on the other 12.

Convicted with Whelan and Kunz were Hudson County Democratic Chairman Walter Wolfe; Jersey City Council President Thomas Flaherty; Hudson County Treasurer Joseph Stapleton; Hudson County Police Chief Fred Kropke, Jersey City Purchasing Agent Bernard Murphy, and Port of New York Authority Commissioner William Sternkopf.

Conviction on each count except one carries a maximum of 20 years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000. The second conspiracy count carries a maximum of a five-year term and a $10,000 fine. No date for sentencing was set.

Fort Wayne Man Held In Bank Heist
LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The FBI has announced the arrest in Minster, Auglaize County, Monday of 32-year-old Gerald Linus Likes of Ft. Wayne, Ind., on charges of having robbed the Farmers State Bank of Stroth, LaGrange County, Ind., last May 13. The FBI reported that $6,000 of the bank loot was recovered, and that a second man is still being sought. Likes is being held in the Allen County Jail.

Local Draft Board Operation Directed
Pickaway County Selective Service Board 98 has been directed to continue registration and classification and to issue orders for preinduction physical examinations.

The Board was also advised there will be no inductions of any type until further notice.

Louis . . .

name, and in pick-up bands playing at funerals—dirges on the way to the cemetery and a rousing "Didn't He Ramble" on the way back.

"Cats did like flies," he recalled recently, "so I got a lot of nice little gigs out of that. It's business. They going to enjoy blowing over me, ain't they?"

Louis was 22 when King Oliver called him up to Chicago to join his Creole Jazz Band.

Pianist Lil Hardin, who two years later was to become the first of Louis' four wives, recalled a few years ago that Oliver told her he was going to keep Louis playing second cornet behind him because otherwise King Oliver wouldn't remain king.

Louis left Oliver to play with Fletcher Henderson's band in New York, but went back to Chicago to lead a small group at the Dreamland Cafe.

His billing for that engagement was prophetic—"The World's Greatest Trumpet Player"—and his pay astronomical for the times—$75 a week.

Recordings from the Chicago small-band days are most prized by collectors, but Armstrong won a new audience with his big bands in the 1930s and developed the showmanship and singing style that kept him in demand for dance dates, records and movie spots.

With no pretense at trying to be an actor, or anything but Ol' Satchmo, he cropped up with his wide, toothy grin in countless song-and-dance numbers in movies like "Goin' Places," "Cabin in the Sky" and "Dr. Rhythm."

In the 1950s, still blowing strong, Louis won new success with a small band that included the incomparable Jack Teagarden and singer Velma Middleton. This group played all over the world.

"Satchmo" was never in the least surprised at the fame he won in foreign lands, and the near-idolatry with which young Dixieland lovers of England or France or Sweden or even East Germany, Yugoslavia and Russia responded to him.

"Cats are the same language. They all dig me and my horn," he said in a 1970 birthday interview. Louis summed up his "beautiful life" thus:

"I didn't wish for anything I couldn't get, and I got pretty near everything I wanted because I worked for it. . . Now I live for Louis Armstrong and Lucille—nobody but my wife and I. We don't have no big bills to pay and a whole lot of put-on airs like some people. We live a normal, good life. It's enough."

Supermarket Youth Patrol Proves Success
BOSTON (AP) — The red coats are back in Boston, this time by invitation to patrol the aisles of a supermarket looking for shop lifters and pocketbook snatchers.

Six boys, aged 12 to 18, and dressed in red jackets police the store, and store officials say the result has been a 90 per cent drop in shoplifting and handbag snatching.

"The kids' rapport and no-nonsense attitude toward others the same age have made the difference," said manager Larry McCarthy. "We've saved hundreds of dollars a week in merchandise formerly damaged or stolen."

Offenders are asked politely but firmly by the boys to put back the articles and leave the store.

Bank Call Issued By U.S. Comptroller
WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller of currency issued a call today for reports on the condition of national banks at the close of business Wednesday, June 30.

A similar call also was issued by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. to insured state banks, not members of the Federal Reserve System.

Police Apprehend, Charge 4 In High School Burglary

Three young men linked with the July 4 burglary of Circleville High School appeared in Circleville Municipal Court today and were granted a continuance of their hearings to July 14.

The three were Paul Bost, 19, Reynoldsburg; Carlton Good, 18, 260 Sunset Drive and James McGowan, 18, 117 Kimberly Place.

A juvenile has also been charged in connection with the burglary in which an estimated $240 in athletic equipment had been removed from the building.

The three adults have been charged with grand larceny, breaking and entering a building during the night season and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The juvenile has been charged with grand larceny and breaking and entering. All have been released on recognizance bonds.

At 2:03 a.m. Saturday police received a call that a car had parked behind the high school and four persons had gotten out and tried to open one of the large doors.

Officers immediately went to the school where they found the car still parked at the rear of the building. The juvenile was found lying on the lawn apparently intoxicated on the east side of the building.

A pile of athletic supplies was also found on the east side of the building. Included in the supplies taken were a bat, basketball, 18 baseballs, two footballs, shirts, shorts, jackets, sweater.

At 4:30 police received a second call reporting two of the young men had returned and were trying to start the car. Bost was picked up by police in a car parked near Pickaway Manor and the other boys at Good's home.

Judy Schein Visits UN
Judy Schein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schein, Route 1, Williamsport, has just returned from New York City where she took part in the 22nd Annual Odd Fellows' United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth.

IOOF Lodge 32 of Circleville was the sponsor for Judy's trip. She is a student at Westfall High School.

While at UN headquarters, the student delegates were briefed on the many problems existing between member nations, of progress in disarmament and the peaceful use of atomic energy, and of the ways in which problems of health, education, employment and industry in underdeveloped countries are being helped.

In addition representatives of member nations were interviewed, some with the aid of interpreters, and commissions and committees were seen in action.

International House, where graduate students from over 80 countries live under one roof, was visited. In addition, an evening was spent at Radio City Music Hall, and a boat trip around Manhattan Island was hosted by New York Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

A valuable by-product of the Pilgrimage is the fellowship which grows up among the 1,000 or more young delegates from all sections of the United States and Canada. The Pilgrimage is divided into seven groups, each of which spend one week in New York during the summer of 1971.

Since this project was instituted in 1950, 15,990 students have participated. The entire expense is absorbed by the Odd Fellow and Rebekah Lodges.

Mainly About People
Mrs. Robert Tacy, 150 Hillcrest Drive, has been dismissed from Grant Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. Donald Rose, Route 3, has been dismissed from Riverside Methodist Hospital, Columbus.

Densell Arledge, Grove City, formerly of Circleville, is a medical patient in Doctors Hospital, West, Columbus, room 328 A.

Mickey Driesbach, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Driesbach, Route 1, is a patient in Children's Hospital, Columbus, where he has undergone major surgery. He will be hospitalized for two weeks.

Complaints Investigated By City Police

Steven Hall, 344 Watt St., reported to Circleville Police, that a bicycle was stolen from his house on July 3 about 3:30 p.m.

Paul McGraw of Shady Acres Trailer Court, reported to Police that he lost his brown wallet in the area. The wallet contained $90.

Otis Barker, 463 East Watt St., reported to Police that when he returned home Monday he found his bathroom window had been broken with a green apple.

A stolen wheelbarrow was reported to Police by Carl Ruffe. The item was stolen from Barn 3 at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

An incident of larceny by trick occurred at the Sohio Station at Court and Franklin on July 4.

A woman asked for $40 on a credit card and after the attendant gave her two twenties she left, police were told. No arrests have been made.

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rupert Crosse is a difficult man to typecast, and that has been both good and bad for his acting career.

A few years ago, when roles began opening in the movies and television for black actors, Crosse was out of work for 13 months.

"I didn't fit the producers' image," said Crosse, a lanky man with a face equally adaptable to villain, rascal or hero. "But I did end up getting the special roles."

One was his picture-stealing part in "The Reivers," the turning point in his career. "The time was right, the story was right and I was ready," he said. "I've been an actor for 14 years."

He was nominated for an Academy Award and that led to a number of guest shots on television and finally to a co-starring role with Don Adams in the new NBC comedy-adventure "The Partners."

Crosse and Adams play two squad car detectives, who, according to executive producer Arne Sultan, "do the logical thing. It just doesn't always work for them. Rupert is the balance. He says you can't do that, but Don explains it to him with enough logic that he gets pulled in."

A native of the island of Nevis in the British West Indies, Crosse said, "My comedy will not be in the jokes but in the situations and my reaction to them. It won't be on my mind to play comedy. That's not my way."

An integral part of his reactions will be his face and soft voice. He said, "The voice is becoming more of an asset now. Sometimes playing meanies or weirdoes, you get the creepy thing in the voice. I think the fact that it's not too loud helps. My voice doesn't jump out at people."

He studied for the ministry at one time and worked with underprivileged and emotionally disturbed children before studying acting under John Cassavetes in New York. Later he helped create and appeared in Cassavetes' "Shadows," which won a Venice Film Festival Award.

His approach to acting is one of "intense involvement with the truth and the character's soul," he said. "Usually, I'm interested in all the intricacies of the character, which is what I think acting is all about."

Teamsters, UAW Deny Plans To Return To AFL-CIO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — High officials of the Teamsters and the United Auto Workers, the nation's two largest unions, have dashed cold water on speculation that they may soon return to the main body of American labor—the AFL-CIO.

Although officials close to AFL-CIO President George Meany have indicated interest in taking back the two unions, which would swell the labor federation's ranks to more than 17 million, the Teamsters and Auto Workers appear in no hurry to pick up the welcoming bid.

"We can't afford it," said president Leonard Woodcock of the Auto Workers, who was here to address the Teamsters' convention.

Woodcock said his union still is in serious financial trouble from the General Motors strike and that it had stopped paying its five cents per member dues—$65,000 per month—to its alliance for Labor Action with the Teamsters.

"If we can't afford a nickel, we can't afford a dime," said Woodcock, referring to the 10 cents per member monthly dues of AFL-CIO unions.

The Auto Workers quit the AFL-CIO three years ago in a leadership quarrel between their late president, Walter P. Reuther, and Meany. The UAW later formed the Alliance with the Teamsters, expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957.

The way was cleared for the Teamsters' return to the AFL-CIO—if they want to go back—when James R. Hoffa sent his resignation as Teamsters president from his prison cell two weeks ago.

Hoffa was automatically succeeded as Teamsters president by General Vice President

Frank E. Fitzsimmons, who is expected to be elected to a five-year presidential term Thursday.

Fitzsimmons and Meany met privately recently in the first such get-together between top officials of the two organizations since 1957. Both insisted they discussed only a plan to work out a jurisdictional battle over organizing California farm workers. Fitzsimmons reportedly has also told other Teamsters officials to stop speculating about any early return to the ranks of the AFL-CIO.

If the Teamsters with more than 2 million members and the Auto Workers with 1.4 million ever do return, it will swell the 13.6 million-member AFL-CIO to more than 17 million.

Already-Discharged GI Addicts Seek Treatment

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The government is beginning to help servicemen in Vietnam who are addicted to heroin, but, a lawyer is asking President Nixon, what is going to be done about the men already discharged with the monkey on their backs.

Sheldon Portman, Santa Clara County public defender, said Friday he has written to the White House, citing the case of a Vietnam veteran with a drug problem who has served six months in jail, partly because he couldn't get government help. Portman hopes to avoid similar fates for other addicted veterans.

The veteran, David Bellomo of San Jose, pleaded guilty last January to a burglary charge and the public defender tried to get him into a Veterans Administration hospital for his heroin problem.

But Bellomo, 20, was turned down. An undesirable discharge in July 1970 for his drug problems made him ineligible.

With no alternative place to send Bellomo, a judge sentenced him to six months in county jail.

If Bellomo were in the service today, he would automatically get help, Portman said, because of the new military policies towards drug addicts.

"I sincerely hope that you can order a change in the VA regulations," Portman said in his letter to the President.

In a telephone interview from jail Friday, Bellomo said he tried marijuana as a teen-ager and was kicked out of one high school because he wore his hair too long.

He enlisted in the Army in 1968 and went to Vietnam as a crewman on river patrol boat.

"I don't know why I started using drugs," he said. "I guess I was scared and didn't think I was coming back. You play soldier when you're a kid, but you never think you'll have to go yourself."

The Army sent him to hospitals in Vietnam and Japan. After he went AWOL from a Japanese hospital, he was discharged. But aside from Bellomo's drug problems, he had a fairly good military record, Portman said.

Troop Cut Proposals

After years of stalemate over the question of mutual troop reductions in Europe, the possibility of some progress in this area suddenly has come alive. In response to the Soviet offer to discuss mutual troop cuts, the NATO foreign ministers have drawn up a two-part plan for moving the idea to a top-level talking stage.

The first step will be a meeting of high NATO officials this fall in Brussels to agree on proposals to offer the Soviets. If the initial response from Moscow is favorable, the NATO ministers will appoint special emissaries to tour Warsaw Pact capitals to help get the negotiations underway.

If this sounds like a round-about way of beginning active negotiations, it is because the first task Secretary of State Rogers had was to convince America's allies to drop the Berlin issue as a prerequisite to talks with the Russians on troop reduction. West Germany and Britain are particularly hesitant to plunge into the talks without an initial agreement on Berlin.

They have agreed to do so, however, and that is a step closer to direct talks on the troop issue. That does not mean the division of Berlin is a dead issue. Not at all. If the Soviets do not negotiate in good faith, the Berlin issue can be revived at any time. But if they do, it could make it easier to reach a just solution for Berlin and other questions which divide East and West in Europe.

Clearing the stage for a single issue — the large armies which have been maintained in Europe for more than a quarter century — will make the negotiations less cluttered, and possibly more fruitful.

Vidal, Calif., like many old Western towns, is past its prime. Occupying a little patch of the Mojave desert, its mines long closed and no longer needed as a water hole for the railroad, Vidal manages to exist, but barely.

Its 15 residents — average age 71 — remember when the population was 400. They recall, too, that Wyatt Earp made Vidal his home. Now the town is up for sale. All of it, except a service station. For only $60,000. The final ignominy.

Strikes And Occupants Often Halt School In Italy

By ENRICO JACOMINI
ROME (AP) — It's a funny thing about Italian schools: very often no teaching goes on in them.

Sometimes the schools are "occupied" by demonstrating students. Sometimes there are strikes — by students and quite often by teachers. Classes sometimes are empty for days.

Italian primary and secondary education, which absorbs 9.5 million young people and 20 per cent of the state budget, apparently is in trouble.

In Rome, 90 per cent of the schools are forced to have two classes in the same room each day — one in the morning and one in the afternoon. In many cases there are three shifts — the third in the evening.

Classes are overcrowded, with over 30 pupils instead of a maximum of 25 set by the law. Legislation on schools has been sketchy. A reform of junior high schools, making school mandatory to the age of 14 and voted into law in 1965, already is considered antiquated.

Reform legislation has been lagging in Parliament for nearly two years with no indication when the bills might come up for debate.

Projects to reform grade schools and high schools are put into effect piecemeal. One result is that the country lacks adequately prepared technical graduates. Because of equal chaos in universities, there is a crowd of unemployed liberal arts graduates.

In Rome last Autumn, 12,000 candidates turned up for an examination for 554 jobs as grade school teachers.

Students demand changes of programs according to reform projects not yet approved. Some teachers back the students, who often are urged on by political parties or workers in demonstrations.

Hundreds of principals and high school teachers have gone into early retirement in the past two years. Those left behind have their hands full.

Students have brought in political agitators to occupy classes with them. Principals in dozens of schools have called in police to clear the buildings. Statistics showed some 500 secondary schools were closed or occupied by students halfway through the 1970-71 school year.

Besides antiquated programs, the lack of space and bans on assemblies in the schools, the students have been protesting what they say is inadequate heating, poor hygiene and the lack of gymnasiums.

Classes are held in lavatories and corridors of some schools.

The teachers are frustrated by the often violent agitation, and the uncertainty of frequently contradictory instructions from the Education Ministry. The teachers themselves have struck for better pay and career opportunities.

Recently one principal was openly criticized by an education official after calling police to clear his high school, which had been closed by political agitators.

In another case, the ministry opened an investigation against a Rome principal and the board of teachers for having suspended ed for five days two students accused of insulting the principal and demanding he give them all passing marks. The ministry termed the punishment too lenient.

Teachers have said they were sometimes forced to promote students at the end of the year to avoid controversy.

Pessimists, according to an editorialist, often are people who enjoy worrying. If so, then these days they must be having the time of their lives!

Ireland, Switzerland, Costa Rica, Ecuador and Liberia acquired their merchant marines after World War II. Since 1945 it seems everybody has wanted to get into the swim.

In the computer field, IBM gets about 70% of the business; all of its competitors combined scramble for the other 30%. In the chewing gum business, Wrigley exercises comparable dominance. Its 18 domestic rivals, and 155 in other countries, have a hard time reminding customers that Wrigley's isn't the only gum to chew.

The Wrigley empire was born in 1892, when William Wrigley, Jr., introduced his first two brands called, believe it or not, Vassar and Lotta. And today, the Wrigley's product, whose sales in 1970 topped $175 million, is confined only to four flavors: Spearmint, Juicy Fruit, Doublemint, and P.K.

The Wrigley formula has obviously triumphed over wiseacres who mock at gum chewers—and jingles like one pointing out the difference between a gum-chomping secretary and a cud-chewing cow: "The difference between them is clear to me now: It's the look of intelligence on the face of the cow!"

Some years ago anti-histamine tablets were prescribed for me, for allergy. While rummaging in the drawer, I ran across them and wonder if they can still be used for my present symptoms.

Mrs. M. L. P., Tex. Dear Mr. P.: You should never, never use left-over drugs, especially those that have been lying around for so many years.

Sometimes some drugs may lose their potency. Others may be confused and not properly identified with a previous illness.

In most instances, doctors prescribe just enough medicine to control a particular phase of an illness. A general rule of safety is to discard drugs in pill, powder, or solution form that have not been used for a reasonable length of time.

There is another danger. Children can rummage through drawers, stumble upon pills, and assume they are edible.

A second safety rule is to ask your doctor if the "same pills" can be used for symptoms you assume to be "the same."

At what age should a crooked bone in the nose be straightened? Our 12-year-old son hurt his nose while playing baseball a year ago. We never suspected that his nose was broken.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T., Penna. Dear Mr. and Mrs. T.: For many years, I have suggested that injuries such as you describe should not be casually dismissed with a homemade diagnosis of the possibility of a fracture.

It is surprising how often fractures occur, are overlooked, and leave a cosmetic deformity that might have been avoided. X-ray examination of the nose and an examination by the doctor quickly establish the presence or absence of a fracture.

At the time of injury, repair and re-positioning of the fractured bone can easily be done. Once the bones have knitted, which occurs within the first few weeks after an injury, the operation is more elaborate and difficult.

The ideal age for such an operation is an individual one. In most cases, plastic surgeons prefer to wait until about the age of 16. This, too, varies, especially if the nasal septum is markedly bent, and interferes with normal breathing.

My wife is in her eighth month of pregnancy. It may be necessary for us to fly across the country and back, for a week. Would there be any danger to the child?

Mr. J. L., W. Va. Dear Mr. L.: Pressurized commercial planes have reduced the risk to the unborn child. Of course, the rare possibility of insufficient oxygen must be considered.

Unless there is great urgency, flying during this stage of pregnancy should be avoided without explicit consent of the doctor in charge.

Newspaper's Death

In all the furor now surrounding the Pentagon Papers, the essential thing to keep in mind is the reason the Times printed the documents in the first place. That reason has nothing whatsoever to do with "the people's right to know" or anything of the kind. Again and again in the past the Times has howled with rage about "the integrity of government" when some official has leaked information, even to a Congressman, about, say, "security risks."

No, the point of the disclosures is specifically political. The aim is to create the impression that we have been the victims of massive deception, and to cast doubt on the integrity of all government officials, most particularly those now in office, and force President Nixon to abandon his carefully considered Vietnamese phase-out. Whatever else he may be, Lyndon Johnson is a shrewd politician, and he grasped the political point instantly. The danger is, Newsweek reports Johnson as thinking, that President Nixon will be pressured to get out of Vietnam before achieving the main objective — getting South Vietnam in shape to protect itself. Here, in my view, Johnson underestimates the tenacity of Richard Nixon, who has taken on tougher characters than Messrs. Sulzberger, Rosenthal, Wicker, and the rest.

The Times clearly believes, no doubt correctly, that hardly anyone will read the text of the government documents and compare this text with the Times' running commentary; the text, for example, flatly refutes the claim of the commentary that Lyndon Johnson had made up his mind to bomb the North long before his 1964 election campaign. That the Times could print the refutation of its claims on the same page as the claims themselves reflects an arrogance matched only by the nauseating self-righteousness of its editorials.

In the days following the disclosure of the documents, demagogic columnists and editorial writers played the story for all the anti-Administration mileage they could get. "The government still doesn't want Americans to know what is happening," wailed the Times' own Tom Wicker in simulated outrage. "or even what has happened, because it is still afraid to let the truth be known."

Over at the New York Post, tough-guy liberal Pete Hamill went on this way: "It is a terrible thing to discover that the true enemies of freedom, the true subversives, are the highest officials of the Government of the United States itself."

Now the goal of all this, and the goal of the Times' original disclosure, is to wreck Nixon's steady policy in Southeast Asia. More is at stake than even that. The ultimate political goal embraces the defeat of Nixon in 1972 and an advance on wider social and political objectives. A substantial anti-Administration cabal now exists with roots in the government bureaucracy, the academy and the mass media which sees itself, in an unaccustomed way, without much influence in the White House. It has seen the Administration gradually turn the nation away from its desired course — through, for example, those Supreme Court appointments. This cabal is determined to bring Nixon down by any means necessary — law-breaking, lying, anything — and replace him with a liberal Democrat.

The pity is that the Times, as all those roles of microfilm in every college library testify, used to be a great and valuable newspaper of record, its news columns, at least, generally reliable. Now it has descended from that eminence and become, instead, only a kind of political pamphlet, the scheming voice of a mere faction.

Legislature Report

By MYRL H. SHOEMAKER
State Representative

of state funds currently held in active accounts.

History was made within the halls of the Ohio House of Representatives Wednesday night. By a vote of 81 to 9, the House ratified the 25th Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Ohio became the 38th State to ratify the amendment, thereby giving it the effect of law.

This amendment was ratified by the required number of states in a shorter period of time than any previous amendment.

I am extremely proud that Ohio provided the final push for ratification. It was inevitable that this change would come about, and I think we must welcome our young people to the voting roles.

Also this week, the House completed passage on a bill which again will permit the State Treasurer to deposit active funds in banks outside the City of Columbus.

This has been in practice for 35 years, until the Attorney General ruled earlier this year that such funds, which are used to cash warrants to pay employee salaries and current debts, must be kept in Columbus banks under present law.

The House vote was 82-2.

This bill would permit any bank in this state, which is otherwise eligible, to have equal opportunity to become a depository of active deposits, as well as inactive deposits and interim deposits.

The Treasurer of the State reports approximately $48,000,000

The biggest discussion in the House Tuesday (June 29) concerned a bill which would allow a physician to treat a minor for venereal disease without first obtaining consent of the parents.

The measure was passed by a 74-17 vote with an emergency clause — and will be returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments.

Most of the arguments revolved around the lessening of parental responsibility.

The new measure would permit a licensed physician to diagnose or treat venereal disease of a minor, with the minor's consent, but without parental consent, and absolve the parents of liability to pay for such diagnosis or treatment.

In order to reduce the incidence of venereal disease it is necessary to reduce the time between contact, diagnosis and treatment. This bill is intended to promote early diagnosis and treatment by eliminating the necessity for parental consent.

Reportedly, many children will not submit to treatment if parental consent is required.

The House passed and sent to the Senate this week also, a proposal to increase the maximum penalties for disturbing the peace from $50 to $100 and a 30-day jail term.

The bill is needed in rural areas that are not protected by city ordinances and where mischief can be penalized only by the disturbing the peace law.

Now the goal of all this, and the goal of the Times' original disclosure, is to wreck Nixon's steady policy in Southeast Asia. More is at stake than even that. The ultimate political goal embraces the defeat of Nixon in 1972 and an advance on wider social and political objectives. A substantial anti-Administration cabal now exists with roots in the government bureaucracy, the academy and the mass media which sees itself, in an unaccustomed way, without much influence in the White House. It has seen the Administration gradually turn the nation away from its desired course — through, for example, those Supreme Court appointments. This cabal is determined to bring Nixon down by any means necessary — law-breaking, lying, anything — and replace him with a liberal Democrat.

The pity is that the Times, as all those roles of microfilm in every college library testify, used to be a great and valuable newspaper of record, its news columns, at least, generally reliable. Now it has descended from that eminence and become, instead, only a kind of political pamphlet, the scheming voice of a mere faction.

Legislature Report

By MYRL H. SHOEMAKER

of state funds currently held in active accounts.

History was made within the halls of the Ohio House of Representatives Wednesday night. By a vote of 81 to 9, the House ratified the 26th Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Ohio became the 38th State to ratify the amendment, thereby giving it the effect of law.

This amendment was ratified by the required number of states in a shorter period of time than any previous amendment.

I am extremely proud that Ohio provided the final push for ratification. It was inevitable that this change would come about, and I think we must welcome our young people to the voting roles.

Also this week, the House completed passage on a bill which again will permit the State Treasurer to deposit active funds in banks outside the City of Columbus.

This has been in practice for 35 years, until the Attorney General ruled earlier this year that such funds, which are used to cash warrants to pay employee salaries and current debts, must be kept in Columbus banks under present law.

The House vote was 82-2. This bill would permit any bank in this state, which is otherwise eligible, to have equal opportunity to become a depository of active deposits, as well as inactive deposits and interim deposits.

The Treasurer of the State reports approximately $48,000,000

The biggest discussion in the House Tuesday (June 29) concerned a bill which would allow a physician to treat a minor for venereal disease without first obtaining consent of the parents.

The measure was passed by a 74-17 vote with an emergency clause — and will be returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments.

Most of the arguments revolved around the lessening of parental responsibility.

The new measure would permit a licensed physician to diagnose or treat venereal disease of a minor, with the minor's consent, but without parental consent, and absolve the parents of liability to pay for such diagnosis or treatment.

In order to reduce the incidence of venereal disease it is necessary to reduce the time between contact, diagnosis and treatment. This bill is intended to promote early diagnosis and treatment by eliminating the necessity for parental consent. Reportedly, many children will not submit to treatment if parental consent is required.

The House passed and sent to the Senate this week also, a proposal to increase the maximum penalties for disturbing the peace from $50 to $100 and a 30-day jail term.

The bill is needed in rural areas that are not protected by city ordinances and where mischief can be penalized only by the disturbing the peace law.

Computer-Aided Testing Of Patients Under Way

CINCINNATI (AP) — A computer-aided testing program is being utilized at Good Samaritan and General Hospitals to help physicians detect diseases in patients before symptoms appear.

"The purpose of the program is to provide comprehensive preventive care for more patients," said Dr. George Shields, director of medical systems at Good Samaritan and project director under a federal grant under which the pilot project is being conducted.

"It is designed to test each body system in one or more ways," Shields continued. "We are attempting to increase the comprehensiveness of regular checks a physician would make."

Dr. James Agna, director of the out-patient department at General and head of the testing program there, said, "By using computers and electronics, it should effect some kind of economy. It certainly would seem to reduce the time for obtaining routine information that may or may not be of value to the physicians."

The program has been used in hospitals on both the East and West Coasts but it is fairly new to hospitals in Ohio and nearby states. Good Samaritan and General are the first in Cincinnati to offer the program and Shields said a third, newly-opened Providence Hospital is considering it.

Shields said that several cases of thyroid disease and breast cancer, and diabetes have been detected in people who were not aware of the health problems and who were referred to the hospital for another reason. He said it is now "hospital policy" to use the test on all elective admissions, such as on a person entering the hospital for a gall bladder operation.

"By bringing people to the hospital who wouldn't normally come in for preventive examinations, we have been able to detect many diseases which had not reached the acute stage but which did require treatment."

Shields said the program includes a set of questions about a patient's medical history; routine checks by nurses of such things as blood pressure, temperature and pulse and general observations about a patient's health; and a battery of chemistry tests for bone, blood, liver, kidney and thyroid disease.

The program also includes tests on the eyes and ears, and an electrocardiogram and chest X-ray are administered.

Phosphate Detergents Are Issue In Pollution Fight

By Central Press
WASHINGTON — One of the most controversial and least understood issues in the anti-pollution arena is the one over phosphate detergents.

When the confusion clears, many American homemakers may discover that the environmentalists are doing them more harm than good by demanding restrictions on that major household product.

Phosphates have been linked to "pollution" of waterways such as Lake Erie that take effluent from public sewage-treatment plants. Though not pollutants, phosphates are said to "eutrophy" the lakes, causing excess growth of such organisms as algae, which compete with fish for oxygen.

Despite the wide attention focused in recent years on Lake Erie as a conspicuous victim of pollution, Dr. William T. Pecora, director of the U.S. Biological Survey, roundly condemns this idea as a misconception.

"Lake Erie, if anything, is too alive. The western part of the lake is a natural nutrient trap, an extremely shallow shelf that receives a large amount of natural organic material transported by rivers from the surrounding terrain.

"That organic material may be green scum to humans, but it means food for fish. It accounts for the fish harvest of Lake Erie being equal to the rest of the Great Lakes combined.

Due to their persistent association with eutrophication, phosphate detergents have been banned in several locales. Meanwhile, producers of phosphate detergents point out that no proof exists that the removal of phosphate detergents from the market will significantly limit eutrophication.

To underscore this point, Procter & Gamble Company scientists recently tested the phosphate levels of mud in Lake Erie and presented their data before the American Chemical Society.

The company obtained mud samples from 30 feet below the floor of the lake and found a uniform phosphate content for the entire depth. Since 30 feet certainly exceeds the amount of sediment laid down since their introduction of synthetic detergents in 1946, the evidence is clear that there has been a steady supply of phosphates from natural sources throughout the history of Lake Erie.

A number of environmentalists and other experts have warned that hastily applied restrictions on phosphate detergents may also have significant repercussions on home safety, public health and the longevity of wearing apparel and laundry equipment. This is primarily due to the fact that many substitutes for phosphate detergents are highly alkaline, these substitutes are both toxic and corrosive.

Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld, U.S. surgeon general, has noted that "the danger is that the national outcry over the levels of phosphates in detergents will become so great as to obscure the health or environmental impact of alternatives to phosphates."

GREAT FISHING — Thousands of silvery smelt spill onto the deck of a fishing boat after being scooped from Lake Erie. The lake's western end is a natural nutrient trap, ideal for feeding fish. This accounts for the fact this lake produces a larger fish harvest than any other Great Lake.

Nun Makes And Writes Music

By WILLIAM C. MANN
MANILA (AP) — Sister Maria Rosalina Abejo was a maker of music long before she met Pope John XXIII, but his advice led the tiny Filipina nun to the conductor's podiums of some of the world's great symphony orchestras.

Her reputation as a composer preceded her to the Vatican, so that when she met the Pope in 1962 it was no ordinary nun who kissed the papal ring.

"I told him about the two orchestras I had organized in the southern islands, and he said, 'You must conduct real symphonies. The people must know that we in the church can contribute beauty to the world outside.'

"Since then I have made several trips abroad and have conducted in Warsaw, Prague, Moscow, London, New York, Philadelphia... There are so many great orchestras in the world today," Sister Abejo said.

She stands erect on the podium, her tiny right hand whipping the baton through the air, now coaxing, now demanding. Her white nun's habit hangs disinterestedly around her ankles, even when she twists her torso to call for a flurry of woodwinds or to tone down the brass.

As a nun, Sister Abejo took her master's in music from Philippine Women's University in Manila and continued her studies in the United States. She earned her doctorate at Catholic University in Washington, with intermediate study at the Lubanski School of Conducting and Composition, Cincinnati, and Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

She said she appreciates the audiences in New York — "They have to buy tickets three months in advance" — but that the best audiences are on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

"They are a very cultured people, the Russians," she said. "The greatest thing about them as audiences is that they know when to applaud during a symphony, and that's something quite rare."

"I also like the fact that they have never heard rock 'n' roll."

Not that it really matters, she said, because she thinks electronic music won't last. "Look at the classics: they've lived for 200 years," she said. "The electronic music — the avant garde — it will not last, because there's no melody, only rhythm."

So what about rock opera, hailed by New York critics as the savior of a dying art?

"I very much hope to see one," Sister Abejo said. "Probably they are for the middle generation. Now all the people who go to the opera are the old ones; maybe this new thing is to bring the younger people into Lincoln Center."

As an educator, Sister Abejo has constant contact with rock music, and sometimes her battle with it seems a lost cause. "The children are very much interested in rock 'n' roll," she said. "They play the records all the time, because their generation has grown up with it."

"But we've started playing classic and romantic symphonies during recess and meal time, and for many of the children it's the first time they have heard my type of music. They seem to like it."

"You have no idea how happy it makes me when one of the girls comes into our offices to ask for a recording of Chopin."

By WILLIAM C. MANN
MANILA (AP) — Sister Maria Rosalina Abejo was a maker of music long before she met Pope John XXIII, but his advice led the tiny Filipina nun to the conductor's podiums of some of the world's great symphony orchestras.

Her reputation as a composer preceded her to the Vatican, so that when she met the Pope in 1962 it was no ordinary nun who kissed the papal ring.

"I told him about the two orchestras I had organized in the southern islands, and he said, 'You must conduct real symphonies. The people must know that we in the church can contribute beauty to the world outside.'

"Since then I have made several trips abroad and have conducted in Warsaw, Prague, Moscow, London, New York, Philadelphia . . . There are so many great orchestras in the world today," Sister Abejo said.

She stands erect on the podium, her tiny right hand whipping the baton through the air, now coaxing, now demanding. Her white nun's habit hangs disinterestedly around her ankles, even when she twists her torso to call for a flurry of woodwinds or to tone down the brass.

"She has her own style of playing pieces, especially her own compositions," said Bernardo Manalastas, first violinist for the Manila Symphony and concert-master at her last concert. "She's very particular about the way we handle a piece."

"But even though she's particular, she adjusts to what the musicians are doing," he added. "She admits the suggestions of the musicians and allows us to decide some of the finer points of a piece; how to use our instruments best."

Sister Abejo replaces resident conductor Oscar Yato with the Manila Symphony about twice a year. She said its musicians and those of the other orchestras she has directed cooperate with her probably more than with male conductors. "I think they respect my habit," she said.

A member of the Religious of the Virgin Mary of the Philippines, a teaching order of Filipinas, Sister Abejo is dean of a school of music at St. Mary's College in Quezon City, across Manila from the modernistic Cultural Center. Imelda R. Marcos, the First Lady of the Philippines, commissioned her to write the first oratorio in Filipino, the national language, to inaugurate the concert hall in 1969.

"When I was six I was building tunes on the piano," Sister Abejo said. "I come from a family of musicians — my father is a violinist and my mother a singer — so it came naturally. By the time I finished my second year of college, I was an advanced musician and that's when I decided to enter the convent."

As a nun, Sister Abejo took her master's in music from Philippine Women's University in Manila and continued her studies in the United States. She earned her doctorate at Catholic University in Washington, with intermediate study at the Lubanski School of Conducting and Composition, Cincinnati, and Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

She said she appreciates the audiences in New York — "They have to buy tickets three months in advance" — but that the best audiences are on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

"They are a very cultured people, the Russians," she said. "The greatest thing about them as audiences is that they know when to applaud during a symphony, and that's something quite rare."

"I also like the fact that they have never heard rock 'n' roll."

Not that it really matters, she said, because she thinks electronic music won't last. "Look at the classics: they've lived for 200 years," she said. "The electronic music — the avant garde — it will not last, because there's no melody, only rhythm."

So what about rock opera, hailed by New York critics as the savior of a dying art?

"I very much hope to see one," Sister Abejo said. "Probably they are for the middle generation. Now all the people who go to the opera are the old ones; maybe this new thing is to bring the younger people into Lincoln Center."

As an educator, Sister Abejo has constant contact with rock music, and sometimes her battle with it seems a lost cause. "The children are very much interested in rock 'n' roll," she said. "They play the records all the time, because their generation has grown up with it."

"But we've started playing classic and romantic symphonies during recess and meal time, and for many of the children it's the first time they have heard my type of music. They seem to like it."

"You have no idea how happy it makes me when one of the girls comes into our offices to ask for a recording of Chopin."

TUESDAY, JULY 6

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime may be difficult for whatever requires quick action or getting the approval of older or more experienced people, but the evening becomes unusually good for entertainment and for using your best qualities to impress those who mean much to you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Although recreation is on your mind, there are practical affairs that need to be handled first. A fascinating contact is most helpful where finances are concerned. Evening is excellent for social activities.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You had better not rely on help from kin until after sundown, at which time they are solicitous and cooperative. Do some entertaining at home in p.m. Rid yourself of whatever disturbs harmony.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get out and visit with good friends so you relieve tensions that have you feeling depleted. You get excellent ideas on how to be far more successful in the future. Think positively.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't bring up subjects that could cause arguments between kin and outsiders during day. Wait until p.m. when they are in a most reasonable mood. Postpone some personal aim until a better day comes. Get to bed early tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be as diplomatic as possible in business so you do not jeopardize good reputation you now enjoy. Avoid civic activities right now. Evening will then be a happy, harmonious time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) That excellent idea you have is best put in operation after 5 p.m., when you get quick success. Listen to what a new associate has to say early in the day. This can be most helpful to you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Friends are anxious to be with you during day, which is fine, since financial affairs cannot be solved well until p.m. Do some of that shopping you have put off. Some person you meet today can be most helpful in the future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You find just the right solution to some problem existing between an associate and a higher-up and can also profit by your efforts in his or her behalf. Others are quite determined, so tread lightly, but hold your ground.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have too much work during day so plan to make those new contacts in the early evening for best results. Much care in every phase of your work is necessary. Avoid arousing ill will of co-workers.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although fun is on your mind during day, you had better attend to pressing obligations instead of playing. Don't make a fetish of them, though. Evening is best time for being with congenial people.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A family tie and an outsider are having an argument. Mind your own business and all will soon blow over. You may find it difficult to solve some problem during the day, but tonight it is easy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can make this an enjoyable day, but first get your surroundings in order and see that they are clean and comfortable. Begin week properly by giving your support to a plan which an associate has discussed with you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who will be called upon to solve difficult problems early in life and because of such experience will become a force for good in life and achieve success quite early. South Viets May Block POW Plan

PARIS (AP) — The Communists' new Vietnam peace package may have introduced new obstacles to the release of the hundreds of American prisoners held by Hanoi and the Viet Cong.

It gives the Saigon government what is in effect a veto over any arrangement for release of the prisoners.

The seven-point plan, submitted to the Paris peace talks Thursday by Viet Cong Foreign Minister Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, appears to meet the major American demands concerning the prisoners.

But at the same time it would require the United States to force or persuade the Saigon government to release thousands of Viet Cong considered terrorists.

There was no indication that Saigon was prepared to let these men loose in South Vietnam's cities and villages at a time when its defensive posture would be weakened by an American withdrawal.

But the new Communist offer on prisoners may be difficult for President Nixon to reject because it seems to meet his own criteria.

Last October, he proposed the liberation of all war prisoners held by both sides. He said more recently he would accept no Vietnam settlement without a concrete Communist commitment to release all the prisoners.

The North Vietnamese have released a list of 339 American prisoners of war, but Washington claims Hanoi holds 470 Americans.

The Communist peace plan suggests "the release of the totality of military men of all parties and of the civilians captured in the war—including American pilots captured in North Vietnam—so that they may all rapidly return to their homes."

Viet Cong spokesman Duong Dinh Thao told newsmen after Thursday's 119th session of the peace talks that this paragraph referred to all prisoners without exception—including "the hundreds of thousands of patriots held by the Saigon puppet regime."

It was the first time the Communists have made release of all Viet Cong prisoners held by Saigon a condition for release of the Americans held by Hanoi and the Viet Cong.

The demand opened a Pandora's Box of potential conflict between the allies. The Saigon government backed President Nixon's October proposal for release of all prisoners—but explicitly limited it to "prisoners of war." Officially, Saigon holds some 37,000 such prisoners, most of them designated as Viet Cong.

But the prisoners classified by Saigon as "terrorists" are officially regarded as common law criminals and were explicitly excluded by the South Vietnamese government from the prisoner release proposal.

Aptly Named City

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — This city gets its name from a rock that juts from the bank of the Arkansas River near the downtown area. It marked the spot where a ferry transported passengers across the river during frontier time.

In the Central Colorado Rockies, timberline, the point above which no trees grow because of the alpine climate, comes at about 11,500 feet. In Montana it's at 9,000 feet and in northern Alberta, Canada, at only 7,000 feet.

ORDINANCE No. 861 EMPLOYMENT OF CHIEF OF POLICE FOR VILLAGE

Be it ordained by the Council of the Village of Ashville, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That the Chief of Police of the Village of Ashville, Ohio, for patrolling the streets, alleys and other public areas in said Village, for performing all other duties authorized by the laws of this state and the ordinances of this village, and for maintaining peace and order within the corporate limits of said Village shall receive an annual salary of $7,600.00 installments of $325.00 each.

Section 2. That Alva Boyer shall be and hereby is employed in the position of Chief of Police of said Village on the aforesaid terms and conditions.

Section 3. The Council of the Village of Ashville has determined prior to the passage of this ordinance that said Alva Boyer has passed the physical examination by a licensed physician as required by Section 737.15 of the Ohio Revised Code, and that a copy of the report or findings of the said physical examination has been filed prior to the date of the passage of this ordinance with the Police and Fireman's Disability and Pension Fund officials.

Section 4. The Council of the Village of Ashville hereby waives the statutory requirement set forth in Section 737.15 of the Ohio Revised Code to the effect that the aforesaid party designated as Chief of Police must be a resident of the Village of Ashville at the time of his appointment or shall become a resident thereof within six (6) months after his confirmation.

The Council of the Village of Ashville, Ohio, hereby declares this to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the Public peace, health and safety such emergency arising out of the necessity to provide the Village of Ashville, and its inhabitants with a adequate and proper police protection without undue delay. In order to correct a situation now deemed undesirable; therefore this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

This Ordinance shall hereby repeal, amend and revoke all provisions of Ordinance No. 861 of said Village which are not consistent herewith, including specifically Section 3 of the aforesaid previous ordinance. Dated this 17th day of May, 1971.

Holiday Road Toll Reaches 612; Ohio Counts 22

8 The Circleville Herald, Tues. July 6, 1971
Circleville, Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents during the Fourth of July weekend claimed 612 lives—a record for a three-day observance of the holiday.

The toll compared with a previous high of 611 in 1969 and 540 last year. In all three cases, the holiday period ran 78 hours, roughly three days.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 520 and 620 might die in traffic during this year's second warm-weather holiday weekend.

The record toll for any Independence Day weekend was in 1967 when the figure reached 732 over a four-day period. The figure also is the highest for any warm-weather holiday.

In the single accident over the past weekend, 10 persons were killed and another was injured when two cars collided head-on along a straight stretch of Interstate 65 in southern Indiana.

Ohio motorists not only managed to drive more safely over the holiday weekend than experts predicted, they drove more safely than during the same period last year.

Twenty-two died in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday. Thirty-eight deaths had been forecast. There were 23 last year.

The Independence Day weekend toll included seven motorcyclists, two pedestrians and four who died in double-fatality crashes.

FREMONT — Raymond W. Bauman, 38, of Fostoria, when his car went out of control and crashed on Ohio 590 less than two miles south of the intersection with U. S. 6 near Fremont in Sandusky County.

PORTSMOUTH — Ruhl L. Rose, 46, a former Portsmouth resident, current address unknown, when his car, traveling at a high rate of speed, crashed into a concrete wall of a railroad underpass in Portsmouth.

SANDUSKY — George M. Freytag, 19, of Sandusky, when his motorcycle collided with a car on an Erie County road.

LIMA — Anna Mae Robinson, 64, of Lima, when she was hit by a car that ran off the road in Lima.

Grid Hopeful Loses Legs

CONCORD, Calif. (AP) — Dale Allen Eidson, set to try out as a San Diego charter plane pilot next week, has lost both his legs in a July 4 explosion of firecrackers.

Eidson was reported in critical condition after undergoing extensive surgery at Concord Community Hospital. He lost both legs and part of his right hand, doctors said Monday.

Police said Eidson, 24, was injured Sunday night when an undetermined number of firecrackers exploded in a five-gallon can. Cause of the blast, which broke windows in two homes, was under investigation, officers said.

Eidson played at Diablo Valley College and San Francisco State College, where he set several kicking records.

He signed six months ago as a free agent with the Chargers and would have reported to the Charger camp at the University of California at Irvine next week.

In ancient Egypt, pigs were used to tread seed into the ground and thresh grain.

Drownings Claim 9 Lives Across Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least nine persons drowned in Ohio over the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

Four deaths occurred in connection with boating accidents. The dead:

FRIDAY

CLEVELAND — Brian Wamser, 20, of Cleveland, when his rubber raft developed a leak and sank in Lake Erie off Perkins Beach in the city.

SATURDAY

CINCINNATI — Ronald Donnelly, 16, of the Cincinnati area, in the nearby Whitewater River.

CLEVELAND — Daniel Grumley, 24, of North Olmsted in a boating accident in Lake Erie. The body of a second victim, Stewart Cergol, 23, of Lakewood has not been found.

LORAIN — Russell Boyd, 16, of Vermilion, in the Black River at Lorain.

SUNDAY

ASHTABULA — Benjamin Jackson, 18, of Cleveland, in an Ashtabula County lake.

RAVENNA — Joyce Townend, 11, of Brimfield, Portage County, in a small fishing pond in the western part of the county.

MONDAY

CLEVELAND — Richard Langford, 21, of Lakewood, who drowned after jumping into Lake Erie to help right a capsized sail boat.

CADIZ — Clarence E. Lawson, 48, of Dillonvale, who drowned in a strip mine pit about one mile east of here where he had been swimming with some friends.

Portsmouth Girl Soap Box Victor

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Girls dominated Soap Box Derby competition Monday at Portsmouth, and a 13-year-old lass will represent the city at the championship race in Akron later this summer.

This is the first year girls have been allowed to compete in the derby.

Karen Coleman, 13, of Portsmouth, took the local crown. Runner-up was Miss Coleman's neighbor and girlfriend, Kema Empler, 11.

Miss Coleman's brother, Tim, represented Portsmouth at Akron last year.

Air Fare Cuts Near Approval

MONTREAL (AP) — A roundtrip fare of about $200 for transatlantic flights paid for 90 to 120 days in advance is reported close to approval by the world's international airlines.

The proposal, under discussion by the 40 lines attending the North Atlantic fares conference of the International Air Transport Association, is aimed at winning back the business being lost to low-fare charter lines.

"There is a general feeling of acceptance of a fare in the plus or minus $200 range," said an IATA spokesman Monday night. "However, there are a number of different views as to what form that fare should take."

SMOKE DREAM—Ready to cry, Tyrone Gullixson stands beside his 4-year, $6,000 dream that went up in smoke in Richmond, Calif. He spent that much time and money restoring a 1928 Model "A" Ford. He attached a battery charger, fire erupted and the flames fed by chemicals used to fiberglass the interior destroyed it.

Holiday Road Toll Reaches 612; Ohio Counts 22

The Circleville Herald, Tues. July 6, 1971
Circleville, Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents during the Fourth of July weekend claimed 612 lives—a record for a three-day observance of the holiday.

The toll compared with a previous high of 611 in 1969 and 540 last year. In all three cases, the holiday period ran 78 hours, roughly three days.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 520 and 620 might die in traffic during this year's second warm-weather holiday weekend.

The record toll for any Independence Day weekend was in 1967 when the figure reached 732 over a four-day period. The figure also is the highest for any warm-weather holiday.

In the worst single accident over the past weekend, 10 persons were killed and another was injured when two cars collided head-on along a straight stretch of Interstate 65 in southern Indiana.

Ohio motorists not only managed to drive more safely over the holiday weekend than experts predicted, they drove more safely than during the same period last year.

Twenty-two died in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday. Thirty-eight deaths had been forecast. There were 23 last year.

The Independence Day weekend toll included seven motorcyclists, two pedestrians and four who died in double-fatality crashes.

URBANA — Bertha Smith, 64, of Springfield, of injuries received Saturday in an accident at the intersection of Church and Nine-Mile roads just north-west of Urbana.

FRIDAY NIGHT
COSHOCTON — David Lee Morehouse, 38, of Route 2, Mount Vernon, in a motorcycle accident on Ohio 541 west of Coshocton.

STEUBENVILLE — William R. Wallace, 16, of Adena in southern Jefferson County when a motorcycle he was operating hit a utility line downed in an earlier auto collision on a county road four miles east of Adena.

PAINESVILLE — Lenore Sue

Gross, 21, of North Ridgeville, Lorain County, when the motorcycle on which she was riding was involved in an accident with two cars on Interstate 90 in Lake County.

SATURDAY
LISBON — Thomas E. Posage, 22, of Lisbon, when his car crashed off a Columbiana County road 1.7 miles north of Ohio 267.

CAMBRIDGE — Edward C. Maust, 27, of Derwent, near Cambridge, when his motorcycle collided with an auto at a county road intersection south of Cambridge.

CLEVELAND — Thomas L. Nunn, 60, Cleveland, and Tarian Libertine, 11, when Nunn's car, which police said was traveling on the wrong side of Interstate 71, collided head-on with an auto driven by the child's father.

HILLSBORO — Roger Hatfield, 5, in a one-car crash at U.S. 50 two miles east of Ohio 753 in Highland County.

POLAND — Vance C. Moore, 37, of Poland, when his motorcycle crashed on Walker Hill Road 1.5 miles east of Ohio 164 in Mahoning County.

TOLEDO — Evelyn Ruckley, 83, of Toledo, a pedestrian struck on a Toledo street by improperly backing vehicle.

GALLIPOLIS — Paul R. Both, 5, of Thurman, Gallia County, when the car in which he was riding and another collided one-half mile west of Rio Grande on U.S. 35 in Gallia County.

SUNDAY
WARREN — Carol Adams, 27, and Judy Jack, 24, both of Warren, in a one-car crash 2.7 miles east of Ohio 534 on Ohio 305 in Trumbull County.

BURTON — Robert Hosmer II, 24, of Burton, Geauga County, when his motorcycle was involved in a crash with an auto at the intersection of Ohio 528 and Ohio 166 in Geauga County.

WARREN — James R. Hodges, 20, of Warren, in a two-car collision at the intersection of Ohio 305 and a Trumbull County road.

CINCINNATI — Thirty-year-old Patrick Lucas of Naples, Fla., when his car ran off U.S. 52 near here and rolled several times.

MONDAY
LISBON — Richard D. Heaton, 25, of Wellsville, southern Columbiana County, of injuries received Friday evening when his car crashed on a township road near his home.

FREMONT — Raymond W. Bauman, 38, of Fostoria, when his car went out of control and crashed on Ohio 590 less than two miles south of the intersection with U. S. 6 near Fremont in Sandusky County.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Alcohol Amplifies One's Personality

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is very sweet and nice to me as a rule. But when he's drinking he gets very mean. He finds fault with me and picks fights over nothing. He also wants to pick fights with everybody else.

He's not an alcoholic, Abby. He can take it or leave it alone, but he gets so ugly and mean when he's tight, I wonder which side of him is the real him. I would like your opinion.

DIXIE: Alcohol doesn't change one's personality. It merely amplifies it. A mean person gets meaner and a sweet person gets sweeter. If your boy friend can take it or let it alone, he's ahead of let it alone. (And you'd be wise to let him alone.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a truck driver and he is gone from home sometimes a week to 10 days. What makes me mad is he tells me he will call me at a certain time. We don't have a phone so he calls me at a neighbor's home. So I go there and wait from 7 to 10 in the evening because that's the time he says he'll call.

Well, about half the time he doesn't call, so I go to my neighbor's house again on the next night, and sometimes even a third and fourth night hoping he'll call. Sometimes he calls and sometimes he doesn't. When I ask him why he didn't call when he said he would, he says he either fell asleep, wasn't near a phone, he got his days mixed up, or he forgot.

Abby, I can understand his falling asleep or not being near a phone, but how can he get his days mixed up when he has a daily log to fill out?

And how can a man forget his wife and children? I just can't understand it. I am tempted not to be there when he does call, but what would that solve?

ALONE BY THE PHONE: DEAR ABBY: NOTHING. Go to your neighbor's to wait for his call on the night he has said he'll call, and don't try to second guess him. Truck drivers on the whole are a reliable lot. You picked a lemon.

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago our then 19-year-old unmarried daughter became involved with a married man while visiting her older married sister across the country from us. The man and his wife were best friends of our oldest daughter and her husband.

The man left his wife and two children, and he and our young daughter lived together in an apartment awaiting his divorce.

Needless to say, this caused many hurt feelings and many harsh words were said by all concerned. The man's divorce became final last winter and he and our daughter were married in a church ceremony shortly after. They are now apparently very happy.

Since this is the case, and while I do not condone or approve of their earlier conduct, I still love my daughter and want to have a good relationship with her and her husband. Others in the family disagree violently with me. I think life is too short to harbor bitter feelings.

Am I wrong?

DISTRAUGHT MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: No. CONFIDENTIAL TO "C.J.J.": Herbert put it this way, "He who cannot forgive others, breaks the bridge over which he himself must pass, if he is to ever reach heaven, for everyone has the need to be forgiven." Try a little harder.

Ohio Firm Gets Torpedo Pact

$1.5 Billion Involved In Work

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Clevite Corp.'s Ocean Systems Division in Cleveland beat out Westinghouse Electric Corp. in a bid for an estimated $1.5 billion torpedo contract Friday and averted a layoff of nearly 600 production workers.

The Navy contract is for the sophisticated Mark 48 torpedo, described by company officials as the most complex guided missile in the world. The torpedo — which resembles the ordinary two-ton torpedo — contains a small computer which guides it to its target.

Thomas E. Lynch, vice president of Gould Inc., Clevite's parent company, said the Navy contract would be a "springboard" for the firm to bid for the "biggest weapon systems."

U.S. Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, said the contract was the "largest ever given to a Cleveland firm and one of the biggest for Ohio." Minshall made the announcement of the award for the government.

The initial contract is for $115.9 million, with total costs reaching an estimated $1.5 billion over an eight-year period, said William T. Ylvisaker, Gould president.

Neither the company nor the government would say how many torpedoes would be built or how much each would cost.

Ylvisaker said about one-third of the contract funds would be spent in Cleveland and about 15 per cent would go to subcontractors in Ohio.

"Gould has been a major source for this type weapon system for the last 20 years and has set outstanding performance records while supplying the Navy with Mark 43 torpedoes and Mark 46 propulsion systems," said Ylvisaker. "Based on our past experience, this will be a profitable business for Gould."

The Ocean Systems Division now employs more than 1,000 persons and 700 new jobs ultimately could be created by the Mark 48 contract, Clevite said. The company said that if the contract had not been received, it might have had to lay off nearly 600 employees.

Westinghouse originally was awarded the torpedo contract in 1962.

Judge Gives Man Jail Term In Order To Keep Him Alive

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dazed and trembling from the effects of 10 years of glue sniffing, Barry Draper stood before a judge who said, "I'm going to violate your constitutional rights, but it might keep you alive."

Criminal Court Judge Alfonso Sepe then ordered Draper, 26, held on a charge of parole violation, even though Draper was not represented by an attorney and was not offered a chance to seek representation.

Draper appeared in court Friday after his probation officer, Gerard Verzaal, found him lying "flat on his back" on a boat he owned.

Verzaal, 23, said Draper "couldn't stand up, had infected sores all over his body and had a high fever."

Verzaal said he took Draper, a veteran, to a Veterans Administration Hospital for treatment, but the hospital wouldn't admit him. A county hospital also said Draper did not need in-patient care.

Verzaal, who had a parolee die of heroin overdose last year, said Draper had been sniffing glue since he was 16, "and I'm afraid he's going to die."

"I'd rather see him in Rikers Island Prison for three years than see him die on the street," Verzaal said. "At least he'd be alive those three years."

"He's not a danger to society, but he's going to die if he doesn't get help," Verzaal told the judge.

Judge Sepe watched Draper, who stood mute throughout the hearing, then ordered him examined immediately by court-appointed physicians. Judge Sepe said he wanted Draper examined for possible brain damage as well as his obvious physical ailments.

Draper was first arrested in 1965 on charges of possession of burglary tools, breaking and entering and petty larceny. He was placed on two year probation, which has been extended regularly.

Three months ago, Draper was arrested on charges of glue sniffing and possession of marijuana. Judge Sepe extended his probation for another year.

Judge Gives Man Jail Term In Order To Keep Him Alive

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dazed and trembling from the effects of 10 years of glue sniffing, Barry Draper stood before a judge who said, "I'm going to violate your constitutional rights, but it might keep you alive."

Criminal Court Judge Alfonso Sepe then ordered Draper, 26, held on a charge of parole violation, even though Draper was not represented by an attorney and was not offered a chance to seek representation.

Draper appeared in court Friday after his probation officer, Gerard Verzaal, found him lying "flat on his back" on a boat he owned.

Verzaal, 23, said Draper "couldn't stand up, had infected sores all over his body and had a high fever."

Verzaal said he took Draper, a veteran, to a Veterans Administration Hospital for treatment, but the hospital wouldn't admit him. A county hospital also said Draper did not need in-patient care.

Verzaal, who had a parolee die of heroin overdose last year, said Draper had been sniffing glue since he was 16, "and I'm afraid he's going to die."

"I'd rather see him in Raimond Prison for three years than see him die on the street," Verzaal said. "At least he'd be alive those three years."

"He's not a danger to society, but he's going to die if he doesn't get help," Verzaal told the judge.

Judge Sepe watched Draper, who stood mute throughout the hearing, then ordered him examined immediately by court-appointed physicians. Judge Sepe said he wanted Draper examined for possible brain damage as well as his obvious physical ailments.

Draper was first arrested in 1965 on charges of possession of burglary tools, breaking and entering and petty larceny. He was placed on two year probation, which has been extended regularly.

Three months ago, Draper was arrested on charges of glue sniffing and possession of marijuana. Judge Sepe extended his probation for another year.

Frenchman Named Pumpnickel

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the legends of bread concerns pumpnickel, Germany's famous black bread.

It may have been named when a traveling Frenchman tried some and pronounced it "bon pour Nicol," or "good for Nicol" as he called his horse.

There is also the one about Turkish bakers, when caught adding fillers to their flour, being nailed by the ears to their shops.

BLIGHT FIGHT—Facing a continuing increase (lower map) in southern corn leaf blight, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, aided by NASA, has expanded a Corn Blight Watch Experiment (top map), started in April, to 45,000 acres of selected farm sites in seven states. The blight cut the expected corn crop about 15 per cent in 1970, and the June, 1971, USDA report showed that 24 states now are infected. A spy-type Air Force plane and a NASA low-level mapping plane are being used.

Rusk Denies Deception Intended By '64 Actions

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk says he and the administration in which he served underestimated the determination of the North Vietnamese but says there was "no deliberate attempt to deceive anybody" during the 1964 presidential election.

Rusk spoke to several interviewers Friday, becoming the highest ranking member of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations to comment on the publication of the top secret Pentagon study of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Rusk said he was speaking out on the controversy because he could not "remain silent forever."

According to the Pentagon study, as reported in The New York Times on June 14, the Johnson administration reached a general consensus on Sept. 7, 1964 that bombing attacks would probably have to be launched against North Vietnam "early in the new year."

During his 1964 campaign for re-election, President Lyndon B. Johnson said he knew of no such plans.

Rusk told the Athens, Ga., Daily News that in 1964 Johnson "had no plans to bomb North Vietnam during the campaign, although there were people on the staff who were working out all sorts of contingencies, but these were not President Johnson's plans."

Later, in an interview with NBC-TV taped in Atlanta, Rusk said:

"As far as general policy is concerned, there was no deception."

Connecticut Family Hurt In Plane Crash

NORWALK, Ohio (AP) — A Connecticut family of four was in satisfactory condition Monday in a Norwalk hospital, but their airplane wasn't.

Roger Davis, 45, and his wife and two daughters were taking off in their Cessna 177, from Exit 7 Airport north of Milan when it tangled in some wires, banked steeply and spun into a power pole.

The Davis family is from Simsbury, Conn. Their plane was severely damaged.

At the Palace of Weddings in Leningrad, marriages are performed 10 hours a day, seven days a week. The charge is $1.65 for the eight-minute ceremony.

tion. I can't find any justification for the charge of deceit."

Rusk, currently a professor of international law at the University of Georgia, served eight years as Secretary of State under Presidents John F. Kennedy and Johnson.

He told newsmen after the NBC interview that he had telephoned President Johnson at his ranch in Texas after reading the first installment of the Pentagon papers in The Times "because I'd never heard of the study."

As for administration miscalculations Rusk told NBC: "I personally think we underestimated the resistance and determination of the North Vietnamese."

Plane Crash Proves Fatal To 5 Persons

PHILO, Ill. (AP) — Investigators searched through the wreckage of a twin-engine plane today for the cause of a crash that killed all five persons aboard.

The plane, bound from Sioux City, Iowa, to Cincinnati, encountered severe thunderstorms late Sunday night and disappeared, sparking an extensive search by the Illinois Civil Air Patrol.

Sheriff deputies found the Piper Comanche aircraft Monday night "badly broken up" in a cornfield five miles from Champaign, in east-central Illinois.

Sources in South Dakota said one of the passengers reportedly was jockey Vernon Saylor, 21, of Aberdeen, S.D., the leading winner at Cincinnati's Riverview Downs race track where he was to race Monday.

The bodies were taken to Burnham City Hospital in Champaign.

A spokesman for the Civil Air Patrol said the plane took off from Sioux City at 6:30 p.m.

Sunday and last was heard from in a radio transmission to Peoria, Ill., when the pilot asked to change his route because of severe thunderstorms.

Officials at Riverview Downs in Cincinnati said Saylor had ridden 35 winners in 169 mounts and was scheduled to ride in four races Monday. He had flown to Jefferson, S.D., after racing in Cincinnati last Saturday and was on his return trip at the time of the crash.

Patsayev, Volkov and Dobrovolsky died mysteriously in Soyuz 11. One other Soviet cosmonaut died of a bleeding ulcer — Pavel Belyev, who flew aboard Voskhod 2. Gagarin died in a jet plane crash.

Life-Termer Given Chance As County Probation Agent

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — A Nevada man, told 13 years ago he had no hope for parole from a second-degree murder conviction, begins work here today as probation agent for Montgomery County.

The series of events which led to parole for Tom Eisen-trager began last summer when Montgomery County Judge Plummer Shearin and other jurists spent a few days in the Nevada State Prison under the guise of prisoners.

Shearin, in Nevada for a conference on prison reform, said he and other judges became acquainted with Eisen-trager. Shearin said the 48-year-old prisoner "was highly regarded by both fellow inmates and jail officials."

Returning to Maryland, Judge Shearin decided to press for the inmate's parole. In April he enlisted the services of Dr. Brian Crowley, a Bethesda psychiatrist.

The two Marylanders went to Nevada and pleaded Eisen-trager's case before Gov. Michael O'Callahan and the state parole board.

The board, which unanimously rejected a parole request last year, voted 4 to 2 last Friday to release Eisen-trager into the custody of Maryland officials. He arrived in Maryland Saturday.

Eisen-trager, still stunned about his release, said he wants to "try to keep kids from getting in their first prison situation."

"All I want right now ... is to feel I am doing something positive. I can look back at the whole mess of garbage in the past and have to strain to find anything positive."

"To become a real person, you must have a moral standard, which I never had until now."

Eisen-trager received a life sentence in 1958 for second-degree murder in the slaying of his girl friend.

Car Hits Bridge, Driver Injured

Failure to negotiate an overhead railroad bridge resulted in injury to a 24-year-old Columbus man and the destruction of his car 3:30 a.m. Sunday.

Ernest R. Copley received a bump on the head and a bruised elbow in the mishap and was treated at Berger Hospital.

According to the report of Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson, Copley was westbound on the Circleville - Tarlton Road, four-tenths of a mile east of Route 23, when he hit the guard rail leading to the bridge.

The vehicle careened onto the bridge before coming to a halt.

Cleveland Blaze Loss High; Reported Work Of Arsonist

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Damage from a four-hour fire that swept through a nearly-vacant six-building industrial complex on Cleveland's East Side Monday may run as high as several hundred thousand dollars.

A. Lawrence Tavens, property manager of Herbert Laronge, Inc. which manages the complex, said the entire main building was completely destroyed and made the damage estimate.

The fire was brought under control early Monday evening, but firemen remained on the scene at East 75th Street and Quincy Avenue throughout the night and early this morning to prevent the smoldering ruins from catching fire again.

Fire Chief William E. Barry said the fire — the sixth in the building complex in the last two weeks — had apparently been set in six different places and that arson was suspected.

"Whenever you have that many fires in one building at the same time, they have to be set," said Barry, adding the fire apparently started on one of the upper floors of the main building.

More than 32 pieces of equipment and 135 firemen battled the blaze, which at one point jumped the street and damaged houses on the north side of Quincy.

Heavy billowing smoke from the fire also caused several families to flee their homes in fear.

The seven-story main building was housed by the National Screw & Manufacturing Co. until it moved to Mentor two years ago. Three small firms are now tenants in the building.

During the blaze, police blocked off traffic from East 71st Street to East 79th Street. The blaze also left a few dozen homes without electrical service for about an hour when power poles caught fire, but service was restored by rerouting a feeder line into the area.

Several firemen, overcome by heat from the flames and suffering from smoke inhalation, were treated at the scene. Two others were taken to St. Vincent Charity Hospital, treated for smoke inhalation and released. A third was treated for a bruised knee and released.

Kissinger's Indian Visit Protested

NEW DELHI (AP) — White House adviser Henry Kissinger arrived in New Delhi today amid small-scale demonstrations protesting the two-day visit by President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser.

Police kept the demonstrators away from Kissinger. But he was certain to run into vigorous criticism from Indian officials outraged because the United States is continuing to ship arms to the Pakistani army despite its bloody suppression of the independence movement in East Pakistan.

About 500 police cordoned off the New Delhi airport and held back 50 Communist and Socialist demonstrators shouting "Kissinger go home" and carrying a huge banner reading "Kissinger of Death Go Back."

Some had baskets of eggs and tomatoes to throw but they never got anywhere near Kissinger.

Waiting buses took them to the U.S. Embassy two miles away, and they charged into the walled compound. U.S. officials quickly bolted the steel doors of the embassy building, and police arrived a few minutes later and chased the demonstrators away.

Kissinger conferred with embassy officials this afternoon and meets Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, Foreign Minister Swaran Singh, Defense Minister Jagjivan Ram and other senior officials Wednesday. He goes to Pakistan Thursday.

Blending Device Seeps Into Orient

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — A do-it-yourself whisky blending gimmick has penetrated the Iron Curtain and now is on its way to breaching the Bamboo Curtain as well.

John Haffenden, 57, dealer in whisky and wines, said he now is shipping his "master blender's" kits to Yugoslavia where they fan out to Hungary and Bulgaria. He says he has supplied some to interested parties in Tokyo and to British diplomats in Peking.

The kits are made up of four bottles of malt whisky, one of grain, a measuring glass and a token bottle of "Scots Water" from Loch Lomond.

Haffenden got the idea for the home blending device several years ago and introduced it in a pilot scheme in New York.

"That kit was too big and unwieldy so I have cut it down so it's not too heavy for ladies out shopping to carry home," he said.

The smaller kits have been reintroduced in the U.S., selling for $28.

Haffenden has added one more novelty:

"If you hit on a blend that suits you, the idea is to send the formula to us and we'll make up a stock with your own name on the label," he explained. "I admit it is a snob appeal."

The bottles are each 1-10th of a U.S. gallon, the malts are Tomatin, Glenfarclas, MacDuff and Islay and the grain is Invergordon.

Haffenden suggests a 25 per cent blend of each of the first two, 10 per cent of the second two, and 30 per cent grain.

"But everyone has different tastes. There are about 100 different blends you can make."

He's been in the wine trade since he was 16 and has had this idea kicking around for a long time.

"I couldn't afford the research, stockpiling and marketing until recently," he said.

"We now have 8 million gallons of malt and grain to tap from," all 4-years-old," Haffenden said. "That remains constant because we stock new whisky every year and let it age."

The five brands used in the kit, if blended properly, become a brand known as "Highland Silk" which seems to be the favorite behind the Iron Curtain.

"The Yugoslavs drive trucks full of meat once a week to London," Haffenden said. "They unload, scour the trucks out, and take back a thousand cases of Silk. They sometimes order special labels in Russian for gifts. The Japanese now are ordering theirs in Japanese."

He expects by Aug. 1 to have shipped a half million blending kits in one year which represents $1.2 million.

Major Items Of Legislation Acted Upon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The following major pieces of legislation were acted upon during the 26th week of the 109th General Assembly.

GOVERNMENT

S.B. 368—An interim appropriations budget of $297 million to meet state expenses for the 31 days of July. Introduced into the Senate, passed and referred to the House. Passed by the House. Signed by the governor into law.

HEALTH

Am. S.B. 56—To authorize a minor to seek treatment for venereal disease without parental consent. Passed by the House with amendments and Referred to the Senate where amendments were accepted. The bill was sent to the governor for signing.

RAILROADS

H.B. 464—To repeal a state law passed in 1903 requiring a fireman to be part of any freight train crew. A motion to reconsider was made and is pending. The measure was defeated on a 44-48 vote June 24.

Grand Finale Comes Early For Fireworks

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The grand finale came early Monday night in a fireworks display in suburban Mayfield Heights.

Chester DiSantis, who has been setting off the city's Fourth of July fireworks for about 50 years, said a piece of paper from a rocket fell into the grand finale fireworks box about one-fourth of the way through a display at Mayfield Heights Park.

"It just went ooooooh," DiSantis said. "I bet they never saw fireworks like that before."

DiSantis' 70-year-old wife was the only person injured. She was released after treatment of facial bruises.

Patsayev, Volkov and Dobrovolsky died mysteriously in Soyuz 11. One other Soviet cosmonaut died of a bleeding ulcer — Pavel Belyev, who flew aboard Voskhod 2. Gagarin died in a jet plane crash.

Life-Termer Given Chance As County Probation Agent

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — A Nevada man, told 13 years ago he had no hope for parole from a second-degree murder conviction, begins work here today as probation agent for Montgomery County.

The series of events which led to parole for Tom Eisentrager began last summer when Montgomery County Judge Plummer Shearin and other jurists spent a few days in the Nevada State Prison under the guise of prisoners.

Shearin, in Nevada for a conference on prison reform, said he and other judges became acquainted with Eisentrager. Shearin said the 48-year-old prisoner "was highly regarded by both fellow inmates and jail officials."

Returning to Maryland, Judge Shearin decided to press for the inmate's parole. In April he enlisted the services of Dr. Brian Crowley, a Bethesda psychiatrist.

The two Marylanders went to Nevada and pleaded Eisentrager's case before Gov. Michael O'Callahan and the state parole board.

The board, which unanimously rejected a parole request last year, voted 4 to 2 last Friday to release Eisentrager into the custody of Maryland officials. He arrived in Maryland Saturday.

Eisentrager, still stunned about his release, said he wants to "try to keep kids from getting in their first prison situation."

"All I want right now... is to feel I am doing something positive. I can look back at the whole mess of garbage in the past and have to strain to find anything positive."

"To become a real person, you must have a moral standard, which I never had until now."

Eisentrager received a life sentence in 1958 for second-degree murder in the slaying of his girl friend.

Car Hits Bridge, Driver Injured

Failure to negotiate an overhead railroad bridge resulted in injury to a 24-year-old Columbus man and the destruction of his car 3:30 a.m. Sunday.

Ernest R. Copley received a bump on the head and a bruised elbow in the mishap and was treated at Berger Hospital.

According to the report of Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson, Copley was westbound on the Circleville - Tarlton Road, four-tenths of a mile east of Route 23, when he hit the guard rail leading to the bridge.

The vehicle careened onto the bridge before coming to a halt.

Cleveland Blaze Loss High; Reported Work Of Arsonist

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Damage from a four-hour fire that swept through a nearly-vacant six-building industrial complex on Cleveland's East Side Monday may run as high as several hundred thousand dollars.

A. Lawrence Tavens, property manager of Herbert Laronge, Inc. which manages the complex, said the entire main building was completely destroyed and made the damage estimate.

The fire was brought under control early Monday evening, but firemen remained on the scene at East 75th Street and Quincy Avenue throughout the night and early this morning to prevent the smoldering ruins from catching fire again.

Fire Chief William E. Barry said the fire — the sixth in the building complex in the last two weeks — had apparently been set in six different places and that arson was suspected.

"Whenever you have that many fires in one building at the same time, they have to be set," said Barry, adding the fire apparently started on one of the upper floors of the main building.

More than 32 pieces of equipment and 135 firemen battled the blaze, which at one point jumped the street and damaged houses on the north side of Quincy.

Heavy billowing smoke from the fire also caused several families to flee their homes in fear.

The seven-story main building was housed by the National Screw & Manufacturing Co. until it moved to Mentor two years ago. Three small firms are now tenants in the building.

During the blaze, police blocked off traffic from East 71st Street to East 79th Street. The blaze also left a few dozen homes without electric service for about an hour when power poles caught fire, but service was restored by rerouting a feeder line into the area.

Several firemen, overcome by heat from the flames and suffering from smoke inhalation, were treated at the scene. Two others were taken to St. Vincent Charity Hospital, treated for smoke inhalation and released. A third was treated for a bruised knee and released.

NEW DELHI (AP) — White House adviser Henry Kissinger arrived in New Delhi today amid small-scale demonstrations protesting the two-day visit by President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser.

Police kept the demonstrators away from Kissinger. But he was certain to run into vigorous criticism from Indian officials outraged because the United States is continuing to ship arms to the Pakistani army despite its bloody suppression of the independence movement in East Pakistan.

About 500 police cordoned off the New Delhi airport and held back 50 Communist and Socialist demonstrators shouting "Kissinger go home" and carrying a huge banner reading "Kissinger of Death Go Back."

Some had baskets of eggs and tomatoes to throw but they never got anywhere near Kissinger.

Waiting buses took them to the U.S. Embassy two miles away, and they charged into the walled compound. U.S. officials quickly bolted the steel doors of the embassy building, and police arrived a few minutes later and chased the demonstrators away.

Kissinger conferred with embassy officials this afternoon and meets Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, Foreign Minister Swarn Singh, Defense Minister Jagjivan Ram and other senior officials Wednesday. He goes to Pakistan Thursday.

Blending Device Seeps Into Orient

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — A do-it-yourself whisky blending gimmick has penetrated the Iron Curtain and now is on its way to breaching the Bamboo Curtain as well.

John Haffenden, 57, dealer in whisky and wines, said he now is shipping his "master blender's" kits to Yugoslavia where they fan out to Hungary and Bulgaria. He says he has supplied some to interested parties in Tokyo and to British diplomats in Peking.

The kits are made up of four bottles of malt whisky, one of grain, a measuring glass and a token bottle of "Scots Water" from Loch Lomond.

Haffenden got the idea for the home blending device several years ago and introduced it in a pilot scheme in New York.

"That kit was too big and unwieldy so I have cut it down so it's not too heavy for ladies out shopping to carry home," he said.

The smaller kits have been reintroduced in the U.S., selling for $28.

Haffenden has added one more novelty:

"If you hit on a blend that suits you, the idea is to send the formula to us and we'll make up a stock with your own name on the label," he explained. "I admit it is a snob appeal."

The bottles are each 1-10th of a U.S. gallon, the malts are Tomatin, Glenfarclas, MacDuff and Islay and the grain is Invergordon.

Haffenden suggests a 25 per cent blend of each of the first two, 10 per cent of the second two, and 30 per cent grain.

"But everyone has different tastes. There are about 100 different blends you can make."

He's been in the wine trade since he was 16 and has had this idea kicking around for a long time.

"The Yugoslavs drive trucks full of meat once a week to London," Haffenden said. "They unload, scour the trucks out, and take back a thousand cases of Silk. They sometimes order special labels in Russian for gifts. The Japanese now are ordering theirs in Japanese."

He expects by Aug. 1 to have shipped a half million blending kits in one year which represents $1.2 million.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

Q — Are all the provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1969 now completely in effect?

A — No. Among some of the important changes still to come are increases in the personal exemption to: $650 for 1971; $700 for 1972; and $750 for 1973. Also there will be further increases in the standard deduction and the amount of income needed before you have to file a return.

Q — I don't think the agent who examined my return was right in disallowing some of my deductions. Is there anyone else at the IRS I can see about this?

A — You may request a district conference to discuss the disputed deductions. The way to do this is described on the notice you received explaining the proposed changes in your tax.

The conference provides you with an independent review of the questioned items, since the person representing the IRS at the conference is not part of the office that examined your return.

Q — I received a cash award from my employer because a suggestion of mine was adopted. Is the award taxable?

A — Yes! An award or bonus given employees for work achievements or for suggestions is taxable.

Q — I just sold my house for a profit. Do I have to pay the tax on the gain next year when I file my tax return?

A — The gain is not taxed at the time of sale if within one year before or after the sale you buy and occupy another residence, and the cost equals or exceeds the "adjusted sales price" of the old residence.

The tax is only postponed. Any gain not taxed in the year of sale is subtracted from the cost of the new residence, giving you a lower basis to be used in the event of a later disposition of the new house. Special provisions apply if you build the home. Additional details are contained in Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home, available free at IRS offices.

Q — Does the IRS automatically impose a penalty on a taxpayer who underpays his estimated tax installment?

A — A penalty of 6 per cent per year is imposed by law for underpayment of installments of estimated tax except in certain situations. The penalty does not apply if each installment is paid on time and (1) is at least 80 per cent (66 2/3 per cent for farmers or fishermen) of the amount due on the basis of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year, (2) is at least as much as would have been paid if based on the tax shown on your 1970 return, or (3) is based on a tax computed by using your income for last year and this year's tax rates and exemptions. For additional exceptions in unusual cases see Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Income Tax By Individuals, available at your local IRS office. Farmers and fishermen should use Form 2210F.

Police Cruiser Stolen; Chase Ends In Crash

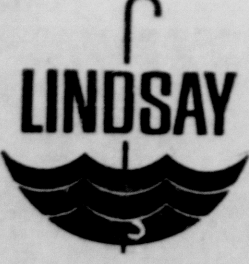

CINCINNATI (AP) — A high-speed chase which ended when a stolen park police cruiser crashed into a roadblock, has resulted in six different charges being filed against a teen-ager.

Cincinnati Police said that George Bailey, 19, who did not list an address, stole the cruiser and then led them on a five-mile chase through the Clifton and Northside sections of the Queen City Monday morning.

Bailey was charged with auto larceny, two counts of assault with intent to kill, driving without a license, reckless driving, driving left of center and running six red lights.

No one was seriously hurt in the crash when the park cruiser rammed into two patrol cars which had set up the roadblock on a street here.

About 800 pairs of nesting eagles remain in the United States, reports Nathaniel Reed, assistant secretary of the Interior.

Pentagon Papers Interesting, But Outdated By Events

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — For all their fascinating detail on the origins of U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war, the Pentagon Papers cast little light on how the war has come to where it is now. In the three years since they were written, the conflict has undergone radical changes.

The most important was a reversal of U.S. policy that began the withdrawal of American combat forces while the Vietnamization program imposed a greater share of fighting on the South Vietnamese.

Another was the spread of open hostilities into Cambodia in 1970 and Laos in 1971, geographical expansions of the war that the Nixon administration gambled would also shorten it. Despite these sweeping developments and the general disaffection of the United States with Vietnam, many Vietnamese and some Americans in Indochina have an unsettling sense of repetition about the present situation.

Col. David Hackworth, a much-decorated Army officer with 5½ years in Vietnam as combat leader and senior adviser, sees the military situation reverting in the next two years to where it was in 1963-65. The South Vietnamese in 1965 were losing a battalion a week. Hackworth's appraisal is that after the allies pull out, the Saigon forces will again face bloody and probably losing battle against a superior enemy.

Apparently beset by some of the same fears, President Nguyen Van Thieu predicts a "major confrontation" between North and South Vietnamese forces in late 1972 or early 1973, after most allied forces have gone.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, is said to share this view.

In the rumor-mill coffee houses along Saigon's Tu Do Street, some current speculation has a strong early 1960s flavor. It centers on the possibilities of a political coup before the Oct. 3 election or, perhaps more likely, afterward—regardless of who wins.

Serious Western observers tend to discount this kind of political talk. The prevailing view is that only Thieu has a chance to win the election, and that nobody has a chance of overthrowing him. Even so, the wisest observers know enough of Vietnam's history to concede the possibility.

The government's control over population has continued to increase. The last report, based on the controversial hamlet evaluation system developed by U.S. officials, said Saigon had relative security over 94 per cent of the country's 18 million people.

Their morale raised by the Cambodian drive of spring 1970, the ARVN—Army of the Republic of Vietnam—and other regular units took severe casualties and some sharp morale setbacks in the drive into the Laos Panhandle last February and March.

Cambodia proved a success in the long run because it broke up enemy supplies and battle plans for most of a year. But experts say Hanoi now appears to have restored to strength many of its seasoned units in that country, and the South Vietnamese, even with continued U.S. air support, are finding the going heavy.

"Name a battle in which the South Vietnamese took on a tough enemy and won. Name it," challenges David Hackworth, who was deputy senior adviser to the elite airborne division in the Cambodian drive.

Allied officials can only speculate on the real impact of fighting on enemy units, but such incidents as the costly May 31 route of a South Vietnamese armored force from the Cambodian town of Snuol have strong echoes, some political. That one resulted in the firing of the ARVN 5th Division commander.

While many figures are deceptive and reflect a limited view of the true situation in the provinces, experienced observers find the Saigon government in its strongest position ever.

This is indicated by a variety of evidence. Many highways undrivable two years ago are now open to regular traffic. Viet Cong attacks are limited primarily to assaults on regional and Popular Force militia units. Current Viet Cong plans apparently aim at reinstating presence and influence in the villages, working through the existing political system where necessary.

Results of the 45-day, U.S.-supported South Vietnamese push into Laos ought to begin showing about now, but assessments are clouded by a seasonal factor—the southwest monsoon sweeping across the Laos Panhandle and curtailing movements along the Ho Chi Minh trail and American bombing as well.

Hanoi, some military sources say, is trying to keep open and expand the trail network while concentrating on moving supplies and equipment in spite of the weather problem, apparently to stockpile them for future campaigns.

Originally, the private view of U.S. officials was that it would require six months for any solid reading of the Laos drive's effects.

Some Americans in the northernmost 1st Military Region consider the situation there worse than ever, because of the Laos campaign's limited accomplishments in disrupting the trail and other enemy activities.

An estimated 10,000 North Vietnamese troops are now said to be operating in Quang Tri province just south of the demilitarized zone, including some 6,000 which South Vietnamese generals say have infiltrated since May 1.

Fair Skies Prevalent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warm summer weather favored most of the nation again today, but thunderstorms lingered over sections of the mid-continent and the South.

The first tropical storm of the year, named Arlene, was reported about 200 miles off the coast of Massachusetts with winds up to 50 miles an hour. The storm was moving up the coast in a northeasterly direction.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 51 at Concord, N.H., to 80 at Memphis, Tenn.

Kenton Brothers Meet Unexpectedly

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — The McCune brothers of Kenton had an unexpected meeting Sunday night.

Donald McCune, 17, turned left on a downtown Kenton street and ran into Joseph, 19, on a motorcycle.

"I just didn't see him," says Donald, who wasn't hurt. Joseph suffered extensive leg cuts. The car and motorcycle were badly banged up.

Stanford Coach Ralston Sees Winesberry As 'Best'

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out some off-season college football wash:

Coach John Ralston of Stanford's Pacific-8 and Rose Bowl champions got to see a good part of the United States last week.

Almost off-handedly, Ralston dropped a real bombshell. With memories of Jim Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner and a record-setting quarterback, still fresh on campus, Ralston said that John Winesberry, who will be a sophomore come fall, "may be the best football player ever at Stanford."

Winesberry is a 6-foot-, 190-pound running back from Tulsa, Okla. He led the Stanford frosh last fall with 298 yards in 78 carries. He also caught 15 passes for 170 yards and three touchdowns.

Stanford won out over Missouri and Kansas in the recruiting race for Winesberry, who'll be a flanker this season—the Indians have a pair of veteran running backs—but likely will go back to lugging the ball in 1972.

Plunkett, by the way, is rumored to be awfully close to signing with the New England Patriots and Ralston has no doubts he will make it big in the pros... eventually.

"I hate to see him start the opener and break right in," Ralston said.

Plunkett got a big break at Stanford because the offensive backfield coach, Jack Christiansen, was a star defensive back in the pros and later spent nine years on the staff of the San Francisco 49ers, the last five as head coach.

Ralston thinks the Pac-8 is the toughest conference in the country "with the Big Eight close." That ought to raise some howls from the South.

"The quality is fantastic," he said. "There were seven good teams last year. UCLA gave Texas a helluva game and Southern Cal, which had an off-year, beat the tar out of Alabama."

8 A.M.—Dirty

Eaton told Irving Leibovitz, editor of the Lorain Journal, that Communist leaders knew every move the United States planned in Indochina before the moves were made.

Leibovitz, in a copyright story, quoted Eaton as saying the only secrets in the papers were those that were "secret to our allies and to the American people."

Eaton, 87, visited Hanoi for 10 days in 1969 as a guest of North Vietnamese government officials. He told Leibovitz in a telephone conversation from his Nova Scotia farm that while in Hanoi he was told of U.S. plans and policies before they were revealed by our government's actions.

Eaton said contents of secret cables and documents and information on policies and meetings involving the U.S. embassy the Saigon government and the U.S. military commands also were revealed to him.

He said the North Vietnamese had the "most complete information" on the role the United States and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge played in supporting the coup of Saigon generals Nov. 1, 1963, against President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Vietnam.

Donohue Wins Schaefer 500 By Razor Edge

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) —Mark Donohue says the new caution flag system used at the inaugural Schaefer 500-mile automobile race could have cost him a heartbreaking defeat, but he likes it.

The 34-year-old Donohue won the Schaefer Saturday at the 2.5-mile Pocono International Raceway in one of the closest 500-mile finishes in U.S. Auto Club history.

Donohue, a baby-faced blond from Media, Pa., won by 1.2 seconds over Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif. A. J. Foyt was third, Mario Andretti fourth and Bill Vukovich Jr. fifth. The previous closest 500 finish was two-tenths of a second between first and second last September at Ontario, Calif.

The new caution flag system—for a 500-mile race—works this way. When the yellow flag goes up, the pace car comes out and leads the field around the track until the danger is over. This allows the cars to bunch behind the leader. Ordinarily when a yellow flag is raised the cars maintain their positions at their own pace.

"I don't think that racing this way is as tiring as it is to race at Indianapolis where you don't bunch up under the yellow behind the pace car," said Donohue. "This allows everybody to rest. Instead of one big race it's like 10 little races."

Where he believed the new system hurt was in losing a 10 and 12 second lead when the cars bunched behind the pace car under yellow conditions.

Donohue completed a spectacular weekend, winning the GBX Trans-American sedan race in Brainerd, Minn., Sunday. After winning the Schaefer 500, he boarded team manager Roger Penske's jet for the 1,000-mile flight to Brainerd, arriving at 2 a.m., won the pole position in a morning qualifying run, then streaked to an 85.1 second victory over Peter Revson of New York in the 210-mile race at Donnybrook.

Claim U.S. Blocks Peace

HONG KONG (AP) — North Vietnam said today that the Nixon administration is maintaining an "obdurate stand" toward the Viet Cong's new proposal for ending the Vietnam War.

Radio Hanoi was referring to the seven-point proposal calling for simultaneous withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam and the release of all prisoners by the end of this year, which the Viet Cong presented at the Paris talks last Thursday.

"Though there has not been any official statement to answer the peace initiative... everyone has seen through the words of many high-ranking officials of the U.S. administration the obdurate stand of the Nixon administration," the North Vietnamese radio said.

Statements by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird and White House spokesman Ronald L. Ziegler "mean the United States will guarantee to maintain the bellicose leaders in Saigon headed by President Nguyen Van Thieu."

Bobby Isaac Firecracker 400 Winner

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Isaac's pimentoed Dodge and three other rejuvenated Chrysler products ran away with Sunday's Firecracker 400 race... by an eighth of an inch.

Ford's two-month domination of superspeedways came to a shudding halt as the Dodge Plymouth team finished 1-2-3-4. Donnie and Bobby Allison, Ford's finest, settled for a 5-6 windup.

"Those Ford people have been happy for a couple of months," said Firecracker king Isaac. "I hope they're still happy."

Filing home behind Isaac in the 160-lapper at Daytona International Speedway were Richard Petty in a Plymouth, Buddy Baker a Dodge and Pete Hamilton in another Plymouth. Isaac averaged 161.943 miles an hour to whip the 40-car field, earning the Catawba, N.C., veteran the largest paycheck—$10,440—of his 10-year Grand National career.

"I sorta backed in to my only other major victory in the 1969 Texas 500," he recalled. "Baker had it won, but ran into another car during a caution lap."

But, on Sunday, Isaac had the eighth-of-an-inch advantage on his side and the Chrysler boys were unstoppable.

Turf Attendance, Betting Increase

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Holiday attendance and betting was up for the second straight year at the nation's thoroughbred horse racing tracks Monday while Twice Worthy and Ack Ack scored in the biggest races.

An Associated Press survey showed attendance of 355,994 and betting of $30,383,895 at 19 tracks in the windup of the July 4 weekend.

Aqueduct in New York and Hollywood Park in California led the tabulations in other years. A turnout of 56,900 bet $5,287,883 at the Big A. A crowd of 51,299 wagered $4,867,995 at Hollywood.

Local Schools Receive $92,590

Schools in Pickaway County received $92,590.89 in June through the state school foundation subsidy it was announced today by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

Circleville City Schools received $46,282.32, the largest payment. Teays Valley received $23,025.10, Westfall $15,906.49 and Logan Elm $7,376.98.

In addition the Pickaway County Board of Education received $5,583.35 for its operation.

Agnew In Mideast For Special Talks

SINGAPORE (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew left Singapore for the Middle East today, seeking support from leaders in two of the less militant Arab states for President Nixon's efforts to achieve an Arab-Israeli settlement.

After an 8½-hour flight broken by a refueling stop in Bombay, Agnew was to spend nearly two days in the oil-rich little Persian gulf Kingdom of Kuwait, the highest ranking American official ever to visit there. On Thursday he crosses the Arabian peninsula to Jidda, on the west coast of Saudi Arabia.

Between 1811 and 1849 a total of 520 steamboats were destroyed on the Mississippi river following collisions, fires, groundings and boiler explosions.

Slight Slip For 'Gorilla'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Tom Moyer, 14, put on a gorilla suit and climbed up to the marquee of the Paramount Theater to advertise the movie being shown.

He was sitting on the marquee when he slipped and found himself hanging from a light standard with his feet searching for foothold on the bottom of the marquee.

An anonymous telephone call brought five fire engines and rescue cars to the scene.

"We were under the impression somebody was going to jump," Fire Bureau Capt. Dale Palmer said.

Firemen put up a ladder and helped young Moyer down. The movie? "Escape From the Planet of The Apes."

Stanford Coach Ralston Sees Winesberry As 'Best'

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out some off-season college football wash:

Coach John Ralston of Stanford's Pacific-8 and Rose Bowl champions got to see a good part of the United States last week.

Almost off-handedly, Ralston dropped a real bombshell. With memories of Jim Plunkett, the Heisman Trophy winner and a record-setting quarterback, still fresh on campus, Ralston said that John Winesberry, who will be a sophomore come fall, "may be the best football player ever at Stanford."

Winesberry is a 6-foot, 190-pound running back from Tulsa, Okla. He led the Stanford frosh last fall with 298 yards in 78 carries. He also caught 15 passes for 170 yards and three touchdowns.

Stanford won out over Missouri and Kansas in the recruiting race for Winesberry, who'll be a flanker this season—the Indians have a pair of veteran running backs—but likely will go back to lugging the ball in 1972.

Plunkett, by the way, is rumored to be awfully close to signing with the New England Patriots and Ralston has no doubts he will make it big in the pros ... eventually.

"I hate to see him start the opener and break right in," Ralston said.

Plunkett got a big break at Stanford because the offensive backfield coach, Jack Christiansen, was a star defensive back in the pros and later spent nine years on the staff of the San Francisco 49ers, the last five as head coach.

Ralston thinks the Pac-8 is the toughest conference in the country "with the Big Eight close." That ought to raise some howls from the South.

"The quality is fantastic," he said. "There were seven good teams last year. UCLA gave Texas a helluva game and Southern Cal, which had an off-year, beat the tar out of Alabama."

Reds Knew U.S. Moves, Eaton Says

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton says most of the material in the secret Pentagon papers was no secret to Communist leaders in Hanoi, Peking and Moscow.

Eaton told Irving Leibovitz, editor of the Lorain Journal, that Communist leaders knew every move the United States planned in Indochina before the moves were made.

Leibovitz, in a copyright story, quoted Eaton as saying the only secrets in the papers were those that were "secret to our allies and to the American people."

Eaton, 87, visited Hanoi for 10 days in 1969 as a guest of North Vietnamese government officials. He told Leibovitz in a telephone conversation from his Nova Scotia farm that while in Hanoi he was told of U.S. plans and policies before they were revealed by our government's actions.

Eaton said contents of secret cables and documents and information on policies and meetings involving the U.S. embassy the Saigon government and the U.S. military commands also were revealed to him.

He said the North Vietnamese had the "most complete information" on the role the United States and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge played in supporting the coup of Saigon generals Nov. 1, 1963, against President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Vietnam.

Papoy Captures Firecracker Championship At Atomic

A good impression made by Atomic Speedway on the opening night of the season called for a return visit Saturday night and resulted in a victory in the Firecracker Championship for a 33-year-old Salem, Ind., tire dealer.

Bob Papoy, in his eighth year in racing, didn't finish high on his initial visit after setting fast qualifying time for the night, but his return trip was quite different.

Taking over on the second lap, Papoy was the winner of the heat for the fastest cars and in the feature had to nurse an overheating engine through the last three laps after taking the lead just after the midway point.

The eighth different feature winner for the year in the super-modified class, Papoy made an earlier try that failed and then took advantage of traffic to get by Jim Meeker of Chillicothe on the 26th lap of the 50-lap main event. Papoy started sixth.

RALPH Coil of Washington Court House took advantage of the pole position to lead the first seven laps, finishing 10th, and eighth-starting Bud Frazier of Chillicothe then led for nine laps

Skip Waterman of Columbus won his initial feature, the seventh different winner in the super stock class for the season.

Starting in 15th position, Waterman was the fourth different leader in the 35-lap finale, but his four leading laps were where they counted. Before they all were forced out of action Chet Hackworth of Otway led for three laps, Dick French of Jackson for 25 and George Branscom of Chillicothe for three.

Joe Teeters of Waverly and Bob Grace of Chillicothe finished behind Waterman.

Hackworth and Grace were the heat winners and George Collins picked up the consi.

In the super-modifieds Meeker led all the way in the dash, Audie Swartz of Portsmouth took the fast heat and Sam Erwin of Portsmouth, driving No. 91, won the consi. In his own car Erwin set the fast qualifying time of the night of 16.24.

In the first race Joe Frazier of Chillicothe had a head cut when a pebble pierced his bubble, but he was able to finish the night.

George Branscom Wins July 4th Saltcreek Championship

George Branscom was the fastest in the second feature at Saltcreek Valley Speedway Monday.

Joe Teeters was second, Dick French third, Jim Lanman fourth, Bob Grace fifth, Ron Allen sixth, Bob Stanhope seventh, Mike Wilson eighth, Skip Waterman ninth and Steve Walter tenth.

Winner of the first feature was Frank Brittain followed by Jim Porter, Bob Hooker, Ernie Adams, Jim Vanover, Red Stalder, Stan Arledge, Larry Weaver, Don Lockhard and Larry Speakman in that order. Fastest qualifier at the track Monday was Mike Wilson and the winner of the helmet dash was Ron Allen.

Bud Newman won the first heat of racing with Speakman second and Lockhard third.

Paul Cohan, Dwight Pence and Brittain ran first, second and third in the second heat. Cohan later demolished his car midway through the consi.

Winning the third heat was Dick French. Second was Lanman and Allen ran third.

Joe Teeters came in first in the accident marred consi with Waterman second and Branscom third.

Al Kenyon was first in the first heat of Dune Buggy racing and Charlie Seymour was first in the second heat.

Winner of the dune buggy feature was Bud Frazier, Seymour ran second, John Park third, Keyon fourth, Steve Cutler fifth and Dick Davis ran sixth.

Washington Smashes Tribe, 15-6

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Washington Senators are moving after all. No, not down to Dallas-Forth Worth—not yet, anyway—but rather up towards the rest of the pack in the American League East.

The Senators battered Cleveland 15-6 Monday for their sixth consecutive triumph and climbed within three games of the fifth-place Indians in their bid to escape the cellar.

Trevino Wins Canadian Open Playoff

MONTREAL (AP) — As far as Neal Harvey is concerned Lee Trevino is the greatest golfer who ever lifted a club.

The 33-year-old Harvey is Trevino's personal caddy and working with Trevino "is like caddyding for myself. I know his game and I know his attitudes."

Harvey commented on his association with the U.S. Open champion after Trevino had won the $150,000 Canadian Open Sunday with a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff with Art Wall Jr. They had tied at 275 for the regulation 72 holes.

Harvey, who now lives in Los Angeles, said he thought the turning point came on the 16th hole, when Trevino from 115 yards out, hit a nine-iron shot six feet to the right of the pin and putted in for a birdie. That tied him with Wall.

Harvey has been with Trevino for 3½ years, but he said their association goes back to their boyhood days in Dallas, Tex., where they grew up.

Harvey said he is paid a salary and also receives a percentage of Trevino's earnings. "Then there's the bonuses," he added. "Lee's been very good to me that way."

Miss Madison Wins Hydroplane Race

MADISON, Ind. (AP)—It was kind of like the small town team winning the state championship then knocking off the professional champs for an encore.

The victory by the community-owned Miss Madison in Sunday's Gold Cup unlimited hydroplane regatta on the Ohio River here had a dreamlike quality.

The hometown hero came through against staggering odds.

Both Miss Madison and Atlas Van Lines II finished with 1,400 points for the day, but Miss Madison was awarded the Gold Cup on the basis of capturing the championship heat. Atlas was second in the standings, Pride of Pay 'N Pac third, Miss Budweiser fourth and Towne Club fifth.

That completed a four-game sweep of the Indians during which Washington raked Cleveland pitching for 34 runs and 44 hits, including 11 doubles and nine home runs.

"Everything seems to have jelled with our club," said manager Ted Williams. "We're getting a little togetherness on our hitting. Getting a few runs makes everything easier. This is the best shape we've been in going into Baltimore in a long time."

The Senators have a two-night doubleheader against the Orioles, who were rained out in Detroit Monday and saw their lead in the AL East shrink to three games over Boston when the Red Sox came from behind three times to outslug the New York Yankees 12-7. Elsewhere, California edged Oakland 2-1, Kansas City took two from the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 1-0 and Milwaukee edged Minnesota 2-1.

The big guns for Washington were Dick Billings, who walloped a grand slam, and Frank Howard and Del Unser, who contributed three-run homers. Unser also had two doubles and a single.

Billings, a former third baseman and outfielder who converted to catching in the minors last season, was given a major share of the credit for the winning streak. The Senators haven't lost since he replaced Paul Casanova as the regular backstop.

The Red Sox spotted the Yankees a 5-0 lead in the first inning as Gene Michael and Felipe Alou homered and then pounded Mel Stottlemyre and Lindy McDaniel, wrapping it up with six runs in the sixth.

Reggie Smith's three-run homer and Carl Yastrzemski's bases-loaded single sparked Boston's first comeback. After Bobby Murcer's homer put New York in front, Rico Petrocelli homered to square matters again.

Trailing 7-6 with two out in the sixth, Petrocelli slammed a bases-loaded triple and George Scott and Joe Lahoud followed with home runs to complete the scoring.

Rudy May, 4-5, recorded his first victory since May 8 as the Angels held off the A's, whose lead over the runner-up Royals in the American League West was sliced to 10 games.

Tony Conigliaro's sacrifice fly drove in California's first-inning run and Jim Spencer delivered the decisive tally with a double in the fifth against Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 11-7.

May checked the A's on six hits until Joe Rudi's leadoff double in the eighth but Dave Larocche and Lloyd Allen came in from the bullpen to halt the threat.

Jim Rooker, who had lost six times, fired a three-hitter for his first victory of the season in the Royals' nightcap victory over the White Sox. The only run came in the first inning on Freddie Patek's double and a single by Amos Otis.

Otis drove in two runs in the opener as Kansas City ended Chicago's six-game winning streak. The Royals, who had been shut out twice and blanked in 24 consecutive innings by the Sox, jumped on Tom Bradley for four runs and six hits in the first inning.

Minnesota's Jim Perry walked Ron Theobald with the bases loaded in the seventh inning, forcing in the winning run and enabling the Brewers to nip the Twins. Theobald also drove in Milwaukee's first run with a sacrifice fly following Tommy Harper's third-inning triple.

Incentive Victor In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Incentive took the lead at the half and won by a length in the featured race at Scioto Downs Monday night, paying $7.80, $4.60 and $3.60.

Smolder ran second at $8 and $5 and Blazing Tara showed for $2.80.

Top Choice and Rendezvous Loper were the nightly double combination that paid an even $93. The 5-9 quinella was worth $73.80.

Attendance was 9,260 and the handle $333,812.

Locally Owned Horse Wins At Scioto

Expresso Digaren, owned by Harry Margulis of Ashville, won the fifth race at Scioto Downs Saturday.

Pacing the mile in 2:02.1, the 5-year-old gelding returned $12.80, $7.80 and $4.60. Chet Dewbre was in the sulky.

Papoy Captures Firecracker Championship At Atomic

A good impression made by Atomic Speedway on the opening night of the season called for a return visit Saturday night and resulted in a victory in the Firecracker Championship for a 33-year-old Salem, Ind., tire dealer.

Bob Papoy, in his eighth year in racing, didn't finish high on his initial visit after setting fast qualifying time for the night, but his return trip was quite different.

Taking over on the second lap, Papoy was the winner of the heat for the fastest cars and in the feature had to nurse an overheating engine through the last three laps after taking the lead just after the midway point.

The eighth different feature winner for the year in the super-modified class, Papoy made an earlier try that failed and then took advantage of traffic to get by Jim Meeker of Chillicothe on the 26th lap of the 50-lap main event. Papoy started sixth.

RALPH Coil of Washington Court House took advantage of the pole position to lead the first seven laps, finishing 10th, and eighth-starting Bud Frazier of Chillicothe then led for nine laps and finished as the runner-up. Jim Meeker of Chillicothe, starting 11th, led from the 17th to 26th lap and finished third.

Skip Waterman of Columbus won his initial feature, the seventh different winner in the super stock class for the season. Starting in 15th position, Waterman was the fourth different leader in the 35-lap finale, but his four leading laps were where they counted. Before they all were forced out of action Chet Hackworth of Otway led for three laps, Dick French of Jackson for 25 and George Branscom of Chillicothe for three.

Joe Teeters of Waverly and Bob Crace of Chillicothe finished behind Waterman.

Hackworth and Crace were the heat winners and George Collins picked up the consi.

In the super-modifieds Meeker led all the way in the dash, Audie Swartz of Portsmouth took the fast heat and Sam Erwin of Portsmouth, driving No. 91, won the consi. In his own car Erwin set the fast qualifying time of the night of 16.24.

In the first race Joe Frazier of Chillicothe had a head cut when a pebble pierced his bubble, but he was able to finish the night.

George Branscom Wins July 4th Saltcreek Championship

George Branscom was the fastest in the second feature at Saltcreek Valley Speedway Monday.

Joe Teeters was second, Dick French third, Jim Lanman fourth, Bob Crace fifth, Ron Allen sixth, Bob Stanhope seventh, Mike Wilson eighth, Skip Waterman ninth and Steve Walter tenth.

Winner of the first feature was Frank Brittain followed by Jim Porter, Bob Hooker, Ernie Adams, Jim Vanover, Red Stalder, Stan Arledge, Larry

Washington Smashes Tribe, 15-6

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Washington Senators are moving after all. No, not down to Dallas-Forth Worth—not yet, anyway—but rather up towards the rest of the pack in the American League East.

The Senators battered Cleveland 15-6 Monday for their sixth consecutive triumph and climbed within three games of the fifth-place Indians in their bid to escape the cellar.

Trevino Wins Canadian Open Playoff

MONTREAL (AP) — As far as Neal Harvey is concerned Lee Trevino is the greatest golfer who ever lifted a club.

The 33-year-old Harvey is Trevino's personal caddy and working with Trevino "is like caddyding for myself. I know his game and I know his attitudes."

Harvey commented on his association with the U.S. Open champion after Trevino had won the $150,000 Canadian Open Sunday with a birdie on the first hole of a sudden death playoff with Art Wall Jr. They had tied at 275 for the regulation 72 holes.

Harvey, who now lives in Los Angeles, said he thought the turning point came on the 16th hole, when Trevino from 115 yards out, hit a nine-iron shot six feet to the right of the pin and putted in for a birdie. That tied him with Wall.

Harvey has been with Trevino for 3½ years, but he said their association goes back to their boyhood days in Dallas, Tex., where they grew up.

Harvey said he is paid a salary and also receives a percentage of Trevino's earnings. "Then there's the bonuses," he added. "Lee's been very good to me that way."

Miss Madison Wins Hydroplane Race

MADISON, Ind. (AP)—It was kind of like the small town team winning the state championship then knocking off the professional champs for an encore.

The victory by the community-owned Miss Madison in Sunday's Gold Cup unlimited hydroplane regatta on the Ohio River here had a dreamlike quality. The hometown hero came through against staggering odds.

Both Miss Madison and Atlas Van Lines II finished with 1,400 points for the day, but Miss Madison was awarded the Gold Cup on the basis of capturing the championship heat. Atlas was second in the standings, Pride of Pay 'N Pac third, Miss Budweiser fourth and Towne Club fifth.

That completed a four-game sweep of the Indians during which Washington raked Cleveland pitching for 34 runs and 44 hits, including 11 doubles and nine home runs.

"Everything seems to have jelled with our club," said manager Ted Williams. "We're getting a little togetherness on our hitting. Getting a few runs makes everything easier. This is the best shape we've been in going into Baltimore in a long time."

The Senators have a two-night doubleheader against the Orioles, who were rained out in Detroit Monday and saw their lead in the AL East shrink to three games over Boston when the Red Sox came from behind three times to outslug the New York Yankees 12-7. Elsewhere, California edged Oakland 2-1, Kansas City took two from the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 1-0 and Milwaukee edged Minnesota 2-1.

The big guns for Washington were Dick Billings, who wallowed a grand slam, and Frank Howard and Del Unser, who contributed three-run homers. Unser also had two doubles and a single.

Billings, a former third baseman and outfielder who converted to catching in the minors last season, was given a major share of the credit for the winning streak. The Senators haven't lost since he replaced Paul Casanova as the regular backstop.

The Red Sox spotted the Yankees a 5-0 lead in the first inning as Gene Michael and Felipe Alou homered and then pounded Mel Stottlemyre and Lindy McDaniel, wrapping it up with six runs in the sixth.

Reggie Smith's three-run homer and Carl Yastrzemski's bases-loaded single sparked Boston's first comeback. After Bobby Murcer's homer put New York in front, Rico Petrocelli homered to square matters again.

Trailing 7-6 with two out in the sixth, Petrocelli slammed a bases-loaded triple and George Scott and Joe Lahoud followed with home runs to complete the scoring.

Rudy May, 4-5, recorded his first victory since May 8 as the Angels held off the A's, whose lead over the runner-up Royals in the American League West was sliced to 10 games.

Tony Conigliaro's sacrifice fly drove in California's first-inning run and Jim Spencer delivered the decisive tally with a double in the fifth against Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 11-7.

May checked the A's on six hits until Joe Rudi's leadoff double in the eighth but Dave Laroche and Lloyd Allen came in from the bullpen to halt the threat.

Jim Rooker, who had lost six times, fired a three-hitter for his first victory of the season in the Royals' nightcap victory over the White Sox. The only run came in the first inning on Freddie Patek's double and a single by Amos Otis.

Otis drove in two runs in the opener as Kansas City ended Chicago's six-game winning streak. The Royals, who had been shut out twice and blanked in 24 consecutive innings by the Sox, jumped on Tom Bradley for four runs and six hits in the first inning.

Minnesota's Jim Perry walked Ron Theobald with the bases loaded in the seventh inning, forcing in the winning run and enabling the Brewers to nip the Twins. Theobald also drove in Milwaukee's first run with a sacrifice fly following Tommy Harper's third-inning triple.

Incentive Victor In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Incentive took the lead at the half and won by a length in the featured race at Scioto Downs Monday night, paying $7.80, $4.60 and $3.60.

Top Choice and Rendezvous Loper were the nightly double combination that paid an even $93. The 5-9 quinella was worth $73.80.

Attendance was 9,260 and the handle $333,812.

Locally Owned Horse Wins At Scioto

Expresso Digaren, owned by Harry Margulis of Ashville, won the fifth race at Scioto Downs Saturday.

Pacing the mile in 2:02.1, the 5-year-old gelding returned $12.80, $7.80 and $4.60. Chet Dewbre was in the sulky.

Baseball Players Group Sues Clubs

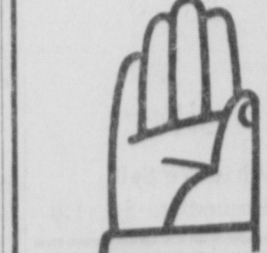

NEW YORK (AP) — The Major League Baseball Players Association, contending it needs figures of its new television contract with NBC to prepare negotiations on a new pension and insurance plan, has filed an unfair labor practice suit against the 24 major league clubs.

The action was announced Monday by Marvin Miller, executive director of the association. In a stinging statement, he accused the club owners of acting "arrogantly" and in a manner "challenging and insulting" the players.

Jockey A Winner In Separate Races

NEW YORK (AP) — A sense of timing is important to a jockey and no one can fault John Ruanne in the first two races of the New York Racing Association's Handicap Triple Crown. He won both on different horses.

Ruanne, who rode Tunex to victory in the Metropolitan May 31 at Belmont Park, won the Suburban Monday at Aqueduct aboard Twice Worthy as Tunex finished third, under Bobby Usery. Twice Worthy did not run in the Metropolitan.

Giants Given 'Willies' As Dodgers Win, 7-3

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
A holiday series against Los Angeles or a glance at the National League West Standings is enough to give San Francisco's sagging Giants a bad case of the willies.

A pair of Willies—Davis and Crawford by name—gave it to the Giants Monday, teaming for a fifth-inning uprising that vaulted the charging Dodgers to a 7-3 victory and chopped San Francisco's once-huge divisional lead to a vulnerable 3½ games.

In Monday's other National League games, the New York Mets split a doubleheader with Montreal, dropping the opener 2-1, when crushing the Expos 8-0 in the finale, Pittsburgh rallied to whip the Chicago Cubs 6-2, Houston slipped by Cincinnati 4-3, Philadelphia outlasted Atlanta 6-5 and San Diego surprised St. Louis 3-2.

In American League action, Kansas City swept a pair from the Chicago White Sox, 6-1 and 1-0, Boston outslugged the New York Yankees 12-7, Milwaukee edged Minnesota 2-1, Washington bombed Cleveland 15-6 and California slipped by Oakland 2-1. The Baltimore Orioles, game at Detroit was rained out after three innings with the Tigers leading 1-0.

Only about a month ago the Giants were running away in the West, holding a solid 10-game lead and giving everyone else the Willies—namely Mays and McCovey.

Mays, a spry 40 years old, was batting a hot .335 with a dozen home runs and McCovey was not far behind at .319 with nine homers.

Since then, however, San Francisco has less than half its games, Mays' average has dipped to .385, and McCovey, bothered by repeated knee ailments, has played sporadically and is down to .292, each has added just two homers in that stretch—and no one has really picked up the slack.

Davis of the Dodgers, meanwhile, continues to career along in the race for the batting championship with an average that has remained steadily above the .350 mark. And in that span the Dodgers have won 21 of 30.

Los Angeles, which trailed San Francisco before exploding for a 10-run eighth inning and a 14-4 trouncing of the Giants Sunday, found itself behind again Monday before loading the bases in the fifth.

Up came Davis—and in came the runs as he tripled to tie the game. Moments later Richie Allen's sacrifice fly put the Dodgers ahead. And two innings later Crawford gave them some breathing room with a homer.

Walter Alston, the Dodgers' pilot, acknowledged that Davis has been the sparkplug but added: "A lot of different guys have been contributing and that's good. You can't rely on one man, so it's good to spread it around."

The Mets' losing spin reached five games in the opener of their twin-bill—and they had scored but four runs in the slump—as John Strohmayr fired a five-hitter and the Expos scored their runs on a pair of bases-loaded walks in the eighth inning.

But Cleon Jones came to the rescue in the second game, driving in four runs on a homer and single to back the three-hit hurling of Ray Sadecki, who retired Montreal's last 19 batters in order.

The Pirates, who had dropped four of six games, trailed the Cubs 2-0 after five innings before two-run singles by Manny Sanguillen and pitcher Steve Blass, 10-4, highlighted a pair of three-run rallies, enabling Pittsburgh to widen its National League East lead to 4½ games over New York and nine over Chicago.

The Astros made it a four-game sweep over the league's defending champion Reds as they rallied from a 3-1 deficit with three runs in the sixth, the final two on Jim Wynn's two-out single.

Willie Montanez poled a game-winning sacrifice fly to deep center field in the eighth inning as the Phillies cut the Braves' winning string at six games. Don Money drove in a pair of runs for the Phils with a double and a triple and Earl

Williams crashed a three-run homer for Atlanta.

Joe Torre homered for the Cardinals and Nate Colbert had one for the Padres but it was Colbert's single and Ollie Brown's double with one out in the bottom of the ninth that enabled San Diego to halt a four-game losing skid.

Walks Haunt Simpson; Reds Lose Tilt To Houston, 4-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Walks always seem to haunt Cincinnati pitcher Wayne Simpson and Monday night was no exception.

The young righthander hurled his first complete game of the year and walked only two men, but both scored as the Houston Astros erupted for three runs in the sixth inning and nipped Cincinnati 4-3.

"It seems every time I walk someone he scores," said Simpson, 1-2, who has not won a game since April 29. "If a guy gets on with a hit he doesn't worry me too much. But if he walks, he usually finds some way to get home."

Joe Morgan led off the sixth with a walk off Simpson, Cesar Cedeno doubled and then Bob Watson walked to load the bases. Doug Rader drove in a run with a sacrifice fly and the other two runners advanced a base. Then Jimmy Wynn singled to plate two more runs.

The victory was Houston's fourth straight in a four-game series with the Reds and it dropped them to 37-48 on the year. Houston advanced to 42-40.

About the only bright spots in the series for the Reds were the performances of Pete Rose and Tommy Helms. Rose rapped three hits Monday night and drove in one run, and wound up with a total of 10 hits in 16 at bats in the series. He has now pushed his average above the .300 mark.

Helms went two-for-four Monday night with one RBI and finished the series with eight hits in 18 plate appearances.

Cincinnati outthit the Astros nine to eight but starter Wade Blasingame checked the Reds on three runs — two earned — through seven innings and Fred Gladding yielded two harmless singles in the final two innings. The victory went to Blasingame but Gladding picked up his 10th save of the year.

Gladding has now given up only four earned runs in 30 innings this year.

After being held to nine runs in the four games by the Houston staff which is one of the tops in the National League, the Reds moved on to Pittsburgh to open a three-game series tonight with hard-hitting Pirates.

HONORED — Tom Frericks, center, receives the BPOE Lodge No. 77 County Trackman of the Year Award from Bill Trego, left, while Circleville track coach Jim Lint looks on. Frericks set a new Circleville High School record in the 100 and placed second in the event in the state meet. Frericks also tossed the shot and was a key factor in the Tigers winning the South Central Ohio League championship.

Giants Given 'Willies' As Dodgers Win, 7-3

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
A holiday series against Los Angeles or a glance at the National League West Standings is enough to give San Francisco's sagging Giants a bad case of the willies.

A pair of Willies—Davis and Crawford by name—gave it to the Giants Monday, teaming for a fifth-inning uprising that vaulted the charging Dodgers to a 7-3 victory and chopped San Francisco's once-huge divisional lead to a vulnerable 3 1/2 games.

In Monday's other National League games, the New York Mets split a doubleheader with Montreal, dropping the opener 2-1, when crushing the Expos 8-0 in the finale, Pittsburgh rallied to whip the Chicago Cubs 6-2, Houston slipped by Cincinnati 4-3, Philadelphia outlasted Atlanta 6-5 and San Diego surprised St. Louis 3-2.

In American League action, Kansas City swept a pair from the Chicago White Sox, 6-1 and 1-0, Boston outslugged the New York Yankees 12-7, Milwaukee edged Minnesota 2-1, Washington bombed Cleveland 15-6 and California slipped by Oakland 2-1. The Baltimore Orioles, game at Detroit was rained out after three innings with the Tigers leading 1-0.

Only about a month ago the Giants were running away in the West, holding a solid 10-game lead and giving everyone else the Willies—namely Mays and McCovey.

Mays, a spry 40 years old, was batting a hot .335 with a dozen home runs and McCovey was not far behind at .319 with nine homers.

Since then, however, San Francisco has less than half its games, Mays' average has dipped to .385, and McCovey, bothered by repeated knee ailments, has played sporadically and is down to .292, each has added just two homers in that stretch—and no one has really picked up the slack.

Davis of the Dodgers, meanwhile, continues to career along in the race for the batting championship with an average that has remained steadily above the .350 mark. And in that span the Dodgers have won 21 of 30.

Los Angeles, which trailed San Francisco before exploding for a 10-run eighth inning and a 14-4 trouncing of the Giants Sunday, found itself behind again Monday before loading the bases in the fifth.

Up came Davis—and in came the runs as he tripled to tie the game. Moments later Richie Allen's sacrifice fly put the Dodgers ahead. And two innings later Crawford gave them some breathing room with a homer.

Walter Alston, the Dodgers' pilot, acknowledged that Davis has been the sparkplug but added: "A lot of different guys have been contributing and that's good. You can't rely on one man, so it's good to spread it around."

The Mets' losing spin reached five games in the opener of their twin-bill—and they had scored but four runs in the slump—as John Strohmayr fired a five-hitter and the Expos scored their runs on a pair of bases-loaded walks in the eighth inning.

But Cleon Jones came to the rescue in the second game, driving in four runs on a homer and single to back the three-hit hurling of Ray Sadecki, who retired Montreal's last 19 batters in order.

The Pirates, who had dropped four of six games, trailed the Cubs 2-0 after five innings before two-run singles by Manny Sanguillen and pitcher Steve Blass, 10-4, highlighted a pair of three-run rallies, enabling Pittsburgh to widen its National League East lead to 4 1/2 games over New York and nine over Chicago.

The Astros made it a four-game sweep over the league's defending champion Reds as they rallied from a 3-1 deficit with three runs in the sixth, the final two on Jim Wynn's two-out single.

Willie Montanez poled a game-winning sacrifice fly to deep center field in the eighth inning as the Phillies cut the Braves' winning string at six games. Don Money drove in a pair of runs for the Phils with a double and a triple and Earl

Williams crashed a three-run homer for Atlanta.

Joe Torre homered for the Cardinals and Nate Colbert had one for the Padres but it was Colbert's single and Ollie Brown's double with one out in the bottom of the ninth that enabled San Diego to halt a four-game losing skid.

Walks Haunt Simpson; Reds Lose Tilt To Houston, 4-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Walks always seem to haunt Cincinnati pitcher Wayne Simpson and Monday night was no exception. The young righthander hurled his first complete game of the year and walked only two men, but both scored as the Houston Astros erupted for three runs in the sixth inning and nipped Cincinnati 4-3.

"It seems every time I walk someone he scores," said Simpson, 1-2, who has not won a game since April 29. "If a guy gets on with a hit he doesn't worry me too much. But if he walks, he usually finds some way to get home."

Joe Morgan led off the sixth with a walk off Simpson, Cesar Cedeno doubled and then Bob Watson walked to load the bases. Doug Rader drove in a run with a sacrifice fly and the other two runners advanced a base. Then Jimmy Wynn singled to plate two more runs.

The victory was Houston's fourth straight in a four-game series with the Reds and it dropped them to 37-48 on the year. Houston advanced to 42-40.

About the only bright spots in the series for the Reds were the performances of Pete Rose and Tommy Helms. Rose rapped three hits Monday night and drove in one run, and wound up with a total of 10 hits in 16 at bats in the series. He has now pushed his average above the .300 mark.

Helms went two-for-four Monday night with one RBI and finished the series with eight hits in 18 plate appearances.

Cincinnati outthit the Astros nine to eight but starter Wade Blasingame checked the Reds on three runs — two earned — through seven innings and Fred Gladding yielded two harmless singles in the final two innings. The victory went to Blasingame but Gladding picked up his 10th save of the year.

Gladdings has now given up only four earned runs in 30 innings this year.

After being held to nine runs in the four games by the Houston staff which is one of the tops in the National League, the Reds moved on to Pittsburgh to open a three-game series tonight with hard-hitting Pirates.

Baseball Players Group Sues Clubs

NEW YORK (AP) — The Major League Baseball Players Association, contending it needs figures of its new television contract with NBC to prepare negotiations on a new pension and insurance plan, has filed an unfair labor practice suit against the 24 major league clubs.

The action was announced Monday by Marvin Miller, executive director of the association. In a stinging statement, he accused the club owners of acting "arrogantly" and in a manner "challenging and insulting" the players.

Jockey A Winner In Separate Races

NEW YORK (AP) — A sense of timing is important to a jockey and no one can fault John Ruane in the first two races of the New York Racing Association's Handicap Triple Crown. He won both — on different horses.

Ruane, who rode Tunex to victory in the Metropolitan May 31 at Belmont Park, won the Suburban Monday at Aqueduct aboard Twice Worthy as Tunex finished third, under Bobby Userly. Twice Worthy did not rug in the Metropolitan.

Russells Point Arrests Disputed By Observers

RUSSELLS POINT, Ohio (AP) — There was disagreement in Russells Point Monday night over whether or not police acted properly in arresting approximately 80 persons during incidents at the resort town Saturday and Sunday nights.

Mayor Lloyd Pickering read the riot act both nights and police moved in with tear gas for the arrests after crowds of youths reportedly threw rocks and bottles at police cruisers and set off fireworks. Charges ranged from disorderly conduct to first-degree riot.

But Playland Amusement Park official Steve Connors said the police action was, "the greatest hoax I've ever seen in my life." He called the disturbances "minor... nothing you could call trouble... just firecrackers."

A Columbus man, who asked not to be identified, said he saw police using chemical mace on persons sitting quietly in a bar. He said he took his family to a rented cottage at the Indian Lake resort every year, but was considering cancelling his lease because of the arrests.

Logan County Sheriff Louis Skidmore said, however, that his men, local police and men from the sheriff's departments of at least a dozen other counties acted with restraint.

"There were firecrackers and cherry bombs thrown at cruisers," Skidmore said. "But the men paid no attention to them for a while. They thought maybe they would quit."

Skidmore said of complaints regarding the arrests, "It comes up every time after something like this. But if some newspapermen had been up there on the line in uniform, I think the stories would be different."

Another deputy said that "there was no action taken until these people became unruly and broke the law."

About 100 law officers were on hand over the weekend to handle possible trouble. For several years during the July 4 weekend at Russells Point there have been annual clashes between youths and police and some vandalism. There was no major damage this year.

Approximately 40 were arrested Saturday night and about the same number Sunday.

Mayor Lloyd Pickering announced last week he would keep all those arrested in jail until Tuesday to prevent their going back to join the crowds on the streets.

But County Prosecutor Douglas MacGillivray reportedly said only those charged with first-degree riot could be kept without bond pending a court appearance. About a dozen posted bond and left Sunday and more did the same Monday.

Penn . . .

(Continued from Page 1) od, including the first quarter of 1972, when we anticipate tightness, even to the point where we might some day run out of cash," Langdon said.

"This is possible, and we are doing everything we can, with our self help measures and in our conversation with labor, to produce the kind of efficient operation that will survive this low point."

If not, would it mean cash from the federal treasury, or perhaps nationalization? "I don't think it will happen," he said. "I don't think it should happen... There is very little sentiment in Congress for nationalization. One reason it would be terribly expensive to the taxpayers..."

"We're just trying desperately to avoid having to get any more public financial help, and I hope that we succeed. It may very well be that we'll get into a last minute jam or some kind that will require some temporary accommodation."

Asked how Penn Central can improve, Langdon replied: "We've got to have more competitive service. We've got to recognize the demand of shippers nowadays for faster, more reliable service than they've had in the past."

"We've got to recognize, too, that we should provide overnight piggyback service between such terminals as Detroit-Chicago, Detroit-Cleveland, Cleveland-Cincinnati, Pittsburgh-New York, Boston-New York, where today the over-the-road common carrier trucker, contract trucker and private trucker dominates the freight transportation market."

"We must compete in this very heavy volume of overnight freight business between important centers that are about 300-400 miles apart."

July Is Jazz Festival Season

Tickets are still available for the 10th annual Ohio Valley Jazz Festival which is set July 30-31 in Cincinnati's River front stadium.

Two concerts are planned, one each night of the music festival. Artists to appear during the Friday performance are: Roberta Flack, Lee Morgan, Chuck Berry, Billy Eckstine, Herbie Mann, Dizzy Gillespie, and Roland Kirk.

Jazz lovers will enjoy appearances by Lou Rawls, Les McCann, Eddie Harris, B. B. King, Cannonball Adderley, Leon Thomas and Gillespie at Saturday's concert.

Central Ticket Office in Columbus is handling ticket reservations in the Central Ohio area for one or both nights' concerts. Bus excursions for single or double performances have been planned from Columbus. The Festival office will handle hotel reservations, tickets and bus tickets under the exclusive excursion rates.

For further information write or call: Ohio Valley Jazz Festival, 2526 Observatory Road, Cincinnati, Ohio 45208, phone 513-321-6888.

Billfold, Mower Target Of Thieves

Pickaway County sheriff's deputies are investigating two thefts in the county over the weekend.

Helen Geesling of Orient reported someone broke into her car early Saturday morning and stole a billfold containing $5 and some credit cards.

Approximately 10 gallons of gasoline was also siphoned from the tank of the car.

Someone kicked in the door of a storage shed belonging to Patrick O'Malley of Lockbourne and took a lawn mower, various tools and a croquet set. Value of the missing items was set at $162.

The theft occurred between 8 p.m. and midnight Sunday.

Russells Point Arrests Disputed By Observers

RUSSELLS POINT, Ohio (AP) — There was disagreement in Russells Point Monday night over whether or not police acted properly in arresting approximately 80 persons during incidents at the resort town Saturday and Sunday nights.

Mayor Lloyd Pickering read the riot act both nights and police moved in with tear gas for the arrests after crowds of youths reportedly threw rocks and bottles at police cruisers and set off fireworks. Charges ranged from disorderly conduct to first-degree riot.

But Playland Amusement Park official Steve Connors said the police action was, "the greatest hoax I've ever seen in my life." He called the disturbances "minor... nothing you could call trouble... just firecrackers."

A Columbus man, who asked not to be identified, said he saw police using chemical mace on persons sitting quietly in a bar. He said he took his family to a rented cottage at the Indian Lake resort every year, but was considering cancelling his lease because of the arrests.

Logan County Sheriff Louis Skidmore said, however, that his men, local police and men from the sheriff's departments of at least a dozen other counties acted with restraint.

"There were firecrackers and cherry bombs thrown at cruisers," Skidmore said. "But the men paid no attention to them for a while. They thought maybe they would quit."

Skidmore said of complaints regarding the arrests, "It comes up every time after something like this. But if some newspapermen had been up there on the line in uniform, I think the stories would be different."

Another deputy said that "there was no action taken until these people became unruly and broke the law."

About 100 law officers were on hand over the weekend to handle possible trouble. For several years during the July 4 weekend at Russells Point there have been annual clashes between youths and police and some vandalism. There was no major damage this year.

Approximately 40 were arrested Saturday night and about the same number Sunday.

Mayor Lloyd Pickering announced last week he would keep all those arrested in jail until Tuesday to prevent their going back to join the crowds on the streets.

But County Prosecutor Douglas MacGillivray reportedly said only those charged with first-degree riot could be kept without bond pending a court appearance. About a dozen posted bond and left Sunday and more did the same Monday.

Billfold, Mower Target Of Thieves

Pickaway County sheriff's deputies are investigating two thefts in the county over the weekend.

Helen Geesling of Orient reported someone broke into her car early Saturday morning and stole a billfold containing $5 and some credit cards.

Approximately 10 gallons of gasoline was also siphoned from the tank of the car.

Someone kicked in the door of a storage shed belonging to Patrick O'Malley of Lockbourne and took a lawn mower, various tools and a croquet set. Value of the missing items was set at $162.

The theft occurred between 8 p.m. and midnight Sunday.

Penn . . .

od, including the first quarter of 1972, when we anticipate tightness, even to the point where we might see some day run out of cash." Langdon said.

"This is possible, and we are doing everything we can, with our self help measures and in our conversation with labor, to produce the kind of efficient operation that will survive this low point."

If not, would it mean cash from the federal treasury, or perhaps nationalization?

"I don't think it will happen," he said. "I don't think it should happen... There is very little sentiment in Congress for nationalization. One reason it would be terribly expensive to the taxpayers..."

"We're just trying desperately to avoid having to get any more public financial help, and I hope that we succeed. It may very well be that we'll get into a last minute jam or some kind that will require some temporary accommodation."

Asked how Penn Central can improve, Langdon replied:

"We've got to have more competitive service. We've got to recognize the demand of shippers nowadays for faster, more reliable service than they've had in the past."

"We've got to recognize, too, that we should provide overnight piggyback service between such terminals as Detroit-Chicago, Detroit-Cleveland, Cleveland-Cincinnati, Pittsburgh-New York, Boston-New York, where today the over-the-road common carrier trucker, contract trucker and private trucker dominates the freight transportation market..."

"We must compete in this very heavy volume of overnight freight business between important centers that are about 300-400 miles apart."

July Is Jazz Festival Season

Tickets are still available for the 10th annual Ohio Valley Jazz Festival which is set July 30-31 in Cincinnati's River front stadium.

Jazz lovers will enjoy appearances by Lou Rawls, Les McCann, Eddie Harris, B. B. King, Cannonball Adderley, Leon Thomas and Gillespie at Saturday's concert.

Central Ticket Office in Columbus is handling ticket reservations in the Central Ohio area for one or both nights' concerts. Bus excursions for single or double performances have been planned from Columbus. The Festival office will handle hotel reservations, tickets and bus tickets under the exclusive excursion rates.

For further information write or call: Ohio Valley Jazz Festival, 2526 Observatory Road, Cincinnati, Ohio 45208, phone 513-321-6688.
